Marcucci Hangs Up Fire Hat In Blaze Of Glory

They came from all over California—fire chiefs and firemen, present and past public officials—to pay fond tribute last night to Nello Marcucci, for 33 years fire chief of San Anselmo.

Some 300 crowded Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael for a retirement dinner given by San Anselmo firemen.

Mistress of ceremonies was Carmel Booth, former San Anselmo mayor and city councilman, who came from Lake County to attend the function. Fire Chief Vance Trivett of San Rafael introduced (though not to Marcucci, who knew them all) dignitaries headed by Thomas S. Ward, supervisor of fire training for the State of California; Harold P. Bowhay, chief of the fire and rescue division of the California Disaster Office, and Loren Bush, chief engineer of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

As Marcucci, who reached retirement age of 65 on Monday, was showered with presents, he responded:

"I'm just a dumb dago; I can't make a speech."

The crowd cheered mightily. Most colorful of the gifts was a brocaded vest presented by the Kentfield Fire Department. The gift Marcucci will probably use the most was a car radio which will pick up fire calls, given him by the Marin County Assn. of Fire Chiefs.

Marcucci announced that he will turn over his 14-kt. gold fire chief's badge to Francis Sousa, who will succeed him as chief on July 1.

"I bought it myself," he said. "The city only gave me a tin one."

MAGNIFICENT SHELL GAME

Coup De Grace Avec Garlic For Colony Of 455 Snails

By RICHARD (L'ESCARGOT) LYTTLE

If eating snails is half as much fun as finding them, two 14-year-old Kentfield girls are in for a happy summer vacation.

Tracy Cavit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Cavit, 12 Locust Avenue, and Linda Pesce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flori Pesce, 14 Locust Avenue, excitedly reported to the Independent-Journal yesterday that they had found 455 snails, all practically in one place.

They were in a two-by-four section of ice plant in four-foot section of ice plant in the front of Tracy's yard. The two girls collected the snails and put them in a cage in Tracy's back yard.

What does one do with 455 snails?

Mais Oui. But of course, one eats them.

The girls have gotten a recipe for preparing snails in the French manner from a neighbor.

Tracy said that it goes like this: Let the snails crawl in a box heaped thickly with corn meal. This tends to clean them. Next boil them in water "for an hour or two."

After this the snails are apparently exhausted. Tracy reported that they should all be out of their shells by this time.

Next the shells are loaded with butter and garlic, the meat of the snails replaced in the shells and shells popped in an oven. Leave them there for about an hour and 45 minutes at 200 degrees, Tracy said.

The girls plan to try this recipe pretty soon. In fact, they are looking forward to it. But in the meanwhile it is fun to wait a little bit and watch the snails in the cage.

You must realize that 455 snails in one place are a good many.

WITHOUT BONDS

Scheme Offered For Expansion Of High Schools

A scheme by which San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools can be expanded to take care of student increases during the next four years without a bond issue was worked out last night by the San Rafael Citizen Committee on School Finance and Facilities.

It depends, in part, on passage of a 50-cent increase in the San Rafael High School District operating tax ceiling, which is to be presented to voters Oct. 8.

MASTER PLAN

The committee adopted almost en toto the master plan by architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley for increasing capacity of each of the high schools to a maximum of 2,400 (which might be further increased later at Terra Linda). When presented to the board of education last month, this was accompanied by recommendations for a two-million-dollar bond issue for financing, and double sessions at San Rafael High for at least a year while enlargement and remodeling was under way.

Both the bond issue and the double sessions would be eliminated by the committee's proposal.

FOUR STEPS

The scheme as adopted by the committee calls for these steps, in this order:

1. Immediate addition of another 18-classroom building at Terra Linda High School.
2. Demolition of a 10-classroom wing at the rear of the San Rafael High School main building and its replacement with a new building containing 17 larger classrooms plus a large library.
3. "Earthquake-proofing" of the old main building at San Rafael High.
4. A girls' gymnasium and shop building at Terra Linda High.

SPEED NEEDED

All could be done within four years if the board of education acts without delays, estimated Supt. Bert C. Corona.

To pay for the projects, the high school district would use $1,160,000 remaining from its 1960 bond issue, $150,000 in federal funds which it expects to get (application has been made for $300,000, but Superintendent Corona believes only half that amount will be allowed). It would then divert to the building program for two or three years a portion of the 50-cent tax increase — if that is authorized.

The tax increase, from $1.25 to a limit of $1.75 for operating tax (13 cents extra is levied in over-ride taxes and 39 cents for bond retirement) is to be sought to meet expected cost increases over the next five years. Corona predicted only 10 cents of it will be needed for operating costs in 1964-65, and perhaps 20 cents the year following. All or part of the remainder could be diverted to the building program to provide all necessary money within two years.

This would save taxpayers heavy bond interest cost, pointed out committee member Frank M. Parker.

The Terra Linda High building was given No. 1 priority after Corona and Priestley explained that it would be impossible to get a building at San Rafael High ready for opening of school in the fall of 1964, but one at Terra Linda could be completed by then.

The committee made no allowance for a covered walkway and eating area provided in Gromme and Priestley's plans for San Rafael High, and voted to call the board of edu-

Invasion Of Cuba Claimed In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban Revolutionary Council said today it had sent commando forces ashore at several places in Cuba and the invadors were being "welcomed by farmers" on the Communist-ruled island.

The council issued this "War Communique No. 1" which it said was transmitted from inside Cuba:

"Commandos of the Cuban Revolutionary Council have landed in different parts of Cuba and the farmers are helping them. They are continuing the action which will definitely lead to liberation of our country.

"The first reports by our forces reveal that the landings were affected without any difficulty and have the utmost cooperation of the peasants in the surrounding zone.

"These commandos, perfectly armed, have entered Cuban territory.

"They are going to transmit by radio tomorrow at 1:40 p.m. on the 40-meter band at 7018 kilocycles."

A council spokesman, Dr. Luis Botifol, declared: "This is the beginning of the liberation of Cuba."

In Washington, State Department press officer Richard I. Phillips said that neither the department nor its Miami office had any confirmation of a Cuban landing. "We are checking further but as of now we have nothing on it," he said.

The State Department spokesman also said that it would be difficult for any large scale invasion of Cuba to take place without knowledge of the U. S. government, which maintains surveillance of the area including reconnaissance flights over Cuba itself.

He said the department has no information that a large scale anti-Castro military operation either occurred or has been planned.

Early reports from the council gave no information on the number of invaders, but other sources said 500 men had been landed.

There was no word, either, on where the landings took place, or the place from which the invasion was mounted.

Some council members were reluctant to comment, in sharp contrast to the noisy news conferences which have trumpeted previous exile forays into Cuba.

'Rosemary Cooney' Foils Eviction Try

Mrs. Albert Rovelli of Homestead heard no "thumps" in her attic last night because she took sleeping pills.

But today the long wait continued in efforts to trap a "huge" raccoon which ate a hole in the Rovelli's roof at 4 LaVerne Avenue, set up housekeeping and, apparently, gave birth to a family.

A trap has been set with salmon in the attic by Richard McDonald of Jackson Pest Control, but "Rosemary Cooney," as Mrs. Rovelli calls the animal is not interested.

McDonald waited in the garden last night for more than three hours but did not see Rosemary.

The Humane Society was called, according to Mill Valley police, but said its traps are too small. The society advised police to shoot Rosemary but police said: (1) This is outside the city limits, and (2) the area is a game reserve.

Mrs. Rovelli said Rosemary apparently crawls up the side of the house on a rose vine. She first appeared about 10 days ago, ate a one-foot hole in the shingled roof, and made herself at home.

Mrs. Rovelli is distracted by the habits of a raccoon. Rosemary, she said, is right over the Rovelli bedroom, "whistles and kind of purrs but louder and more weird than a cat. Then she thumps and makes the whole ceiling shake. She scratches and whistles and drags things back and forth.

"I haven't had much sleep."

Cardinals Fail To Elect Pope In Four Ballots

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Roman Catholic cardinals failed to elect a new pope today on their first four ballots.

Twice today—at midday and then in the late afternoon—black smoke puffed out of a slender smokestack over the Sistine Chapel.

The smoke was a signal to thousands in St. Peter's Square that the 80 cardinals locked in the chapel had failed to find a successor to Pope John XXIII.

When a pope finally is elected the smoke will come out white.

The cardinals will vote again tomorrow.

There were moments when the smoke appeared white, but Vatican radio said there was no doubt that the cardinals failed to elect a new pope.

Thousands had waited in St. Peter's Square—a mixture of Roman housewives, foreign tourists, Italian businessmen and nuns and priests. Many trained binoculars on the dome of St. Peter's Basilica.

What went on inside the Sistine Chapel was not known except that there had been two ballots in the morning and two in the afternoon.

The smoke signals followed each session. The smoke rose from a little stove in which the cardinals burned their ballots. Italian air force flares were being used to color the smoke.

Under conclave rules, no more ballots can be taken until tomorrow morning.

First Night On Job, And He's Robbed

The first night on the job as a night clerk in a San Rafael motel proved a trying one for a 20-year-old College of Marin student.

Three men entered the Villa Rafael Motel at 1606 Lincoln Avenue at about 3 a.m. today to rent a room. One of them pulled a small caliber automatic from his pocket and demanded that Hal Rollins Burns get the cash from the cash register.

Burns, son of Aubrey Burns of 177 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo, handed over $77.

The men then took Burns to the bedroom at rear of the motel office, where they looked for a safe.

Finding none, they made their escape out the front door. Burns told police he didn't know whether the men left by foot or car. Officer Thomas Cheetham said Burns went two blocks before asking permission at a private residence to use the telephone to call police.

Last night was Burns' first night on duty at the motel. Cheetham said he works as night clerk at the motel in return for use of the bedroom during the week.

On weekends, Burns sleeps at the Kentfield Fire Department, in return for being on duty during the night.

Burns told police that the men were all in their 20s, one with dark, one blond and one reddish hair.

Bircher Tells Marin Crowd Break With Russians Needed

John H. Rousselot, western regional director for the John Birch Society, last night advocated breaking diplomatic relations with Russia, and breaking trade relations with Communist countries.

Speaking to a Marin crowd of about 150, Rousselot also advocated an investigation of the policy-making methods of the State Department, support of "corrective" legislation, more active participation in politics, and a renewed respect for spiritual leadership.

Rousselot's audience was generally enthusiastic, applauding several times during the talk and giving him standing ovations both at the end of his formal speech and the end of a question period.

The meeting in the Corte Madera Recreation Center was sponsored by the Southern Marin Republican Women, Federated. Rousselot, a former congressman from Los Angeles, spoke on "Disarmament: a Blueprint for Surrender."

Speaking from a bunting-draped stage, Rousselot attacked putting United States armed forces under control of the United Nations.

"The United Nations has become an instrument of the Soviet Communist conspiracy," he charged. "It is under direction of the Communist conspiracy."

He said the United Nations does not act in the best cause of peace or freedom. One reason for this, he said, is that

U.S., Russia Sign Pact On 'Hot Line'

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and Russia signed an agreement today for the establishment of a "hot line" communications link between Washington and Moscow to reduce the risk of war by accident.

The historic accord was signed by U.S. Ambassador Charles Stelle and Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin, their nations' chief representatives at the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The arrangement calls for a "hot line" teleprinter link — meaning it will be open and operating 24 hours a day every day of the week—which will permit President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to confer immediately at any time.

It was the first concrete accomplishment of the disarmament conference, which has been paralyzed since it began in March, 1962.

Profumo Convicted Of Contempt For Lying To British Parliament

LONDON (UPI)—The House of Commons today convicted former War Minister John Profumo of "grave contempt" for lying to Parliament in a personal statement when he denied "improprieties" with play girl Christine Keeler.

The censure motion was the latest move in the sex and security scandal which has rocked the British government and threatened to topple Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

It came after Macmillan made clear to the House he will go through with his planned meeting with President John F. Kennedy this month despite demands he postpone it because of the Profumo scandal.

The censure motion was offered by Iaian McLeod, Tory leader in Commons. George Bron, deputy leader of the Labor Party, and Jo Grimond, leader of the Liberals, accepted the Tory view that this ought to end the matter in Parliament.

JFK Calls Europe Trip Important

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy feels that political uncertainty in key nations of the Western Alliance makes it doubly important that he go to Europe to restate clearly the basic aims of U.S. foreign policy.

This was the reason advanced today by high administration sources for the president's decision to go ahead with his visit to Germany, Ireland, England and Italy despite political turmoil in most of those countries.

In a speech at Charleston, W. Va., today the president said he would carry with him on his forthcoming European tour a realization that all Americans "are always free."

The administration officials rejected any suggestion that the president might try to influence the internal political affairs of England, where Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is under heavy fire. They said the same goes for Italy, where efforts to form a new government have foundered because of left-wing refusal to cooperate with the middle-of-the-road Christian Democrats.

Speaking to the rain-soaked crowd from the north steps of the state capitol, Kennedy took his cue from West Virginia's motto, "Montani Semper Liberi"—Mountain Men are Free.

"I salute West Virginia and I join you, and I will carry on Saturday when I go to Europe the proud realization that not only mountaineers, but also Americans, are always free," he said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Under God' Hit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has filed suit in Superior Court declaring inclusion of the words "under God" in the United States pledge of allegiance is unconstitutional.

The suit followed a U.S. Supreme Court decision this week which held that reading of the Lord's Prayer or passages from the Bible in public schools was unconstitutional.

Massachusetts In '64

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Ladd Plumley, says he is being urged to run in 1964 for the Republican nomination for governor of Massachusetts.

Plumley said he has an open mind on the possibility but at present "cannot be described as a candidate."

Hoover Is Improving

NEW YORK, June 20 (UPI)—Former President Herbert Hoover, waging a gallant struggle against serious illness, is making an "almost miraculous" improvement, a spokesman said yesterday.

The 88-year-old Hoover has been battling against anemia and an intestinal ailment complicated by internal bleeding.

Rooney Bankrupt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Mickey Rooney claims he's bankrupt despite earnings of 12 million dollars in 30 years.

Rooney, 40, testified at a bankruptcy hearing yesterday that "practically everything I've made in the past 15 years has been attached" for taxes or other debts.

Reds Down Plane

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist China said today Chinese Communists shot down one of its unarmed planes that was dropping food over the mainland.

Nationalist air force headquarters said the plane encountered heavy ground fire and then was attacked and downed about midnight yesterday over Chungjen, in Kiangsi Province.

Anti-Red Measure

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill preventing residents of Communist countries from inheriting property from Californians was sent to Gov. Edmund G. Brown's desk today with legislative approval.

The Senate voted 21-2 late yesterday for the measure by Assemblyman William E. Dannemeyer (D-Fullerton). Similar measures have been defeated in past sessions.

New Try For Italian Government

ROME (AP) — Giovanni Leone, president of Italy's Chamber of Deputies, began a new attempt today to form a government by calling in leaders of nearly every political group — from Communists to fascists.

President Antonio Segni asked the Neopolitan to seek a way out of the worsening political crisis, which today rounded out its fifth week with no solution in sight.

It appears highly unlikely that Italy will have anything more than an interim government by June 30, when President John F. Kennedy is scheduled to arrive.

A middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat, Leone, 54, was named premier-designate after the leader of his party, Aldo Moro, was forced to abandon his attempt to form a new center-left government.

London Party Girl Under Guard

LONDON (UPI)—Police guarded party girl Christine Keeler today because of threats stemming from the Profumo scandal that has rocked the government and shocked London society.

A police spokesman said guards were posted at Miss Keeler's apartment after a number of anonymous threats against her life were made by telephone. Authorities warned the 22-year-old redhead not to answer her door.

Syphilis Resurging In U.S.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— Syphilis, the "great pox" of medieval times, is resurging in the United States, and there may be as many as 1,200,000 hidden cases a top U.S. Public Health Service's venereal disease fighter said today.

Dr. M. Brittain Moore Jr., chief of the agency's V.D. Research Laboratory, Atlanta, said in a report prepared for the American Medical Assn. convention that the malady is being reported with increasing frequency throughout the country.

Steps Taken To Remove Negroes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The University of Alabama board of trustees has taken what could be the first step toward removing three Negro students from the university system.

The board filed notice in U.S. District Court yesterday that it would ask the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to overturn a lower court refusal to delay integration of the formerly all-white institution.

Only notice of appeal, not the text of the appeal, was filed.

In effect, the appeal would ask the court's permission to remove the Negroes until racial tensions have eased in the state.

Rights Plan Starts Uncertain Journey

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Party leaders oiled Congress' creaking machinery today for the start of President John F. Kennedy's far-reaching civil rights program on a tortuous and uncertain legislative journey.

The prospects pointed toward a possible House decision in August on what then might remain of an administration package bill. It is built around proposals to end racial discrimination in privately owned businesses serving the public and to give the attorney general new legal weapons to enforce school integration.

The outlook in the Senate was for a bone-wearying filibuster. Leaders might have to attempt to break it by continuous sessions if they could not command the two-thirds majority needed to cut off debate.

There is a definite threat that while the civil rights proposals are snailing their way around one obstacle after another, the legislative machinery might grind to a halt on other major administration proposals.

This could include Senate action on a tax reduction bill the House might approve in July. The slowdown could extend to the regular departmental money bills for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

And in the summer dog days ahead there loomed the possibility of a Negro march on Washington with possibly a Capitol sit-in attempt.

If Southerners attempt a filibuster, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., said Wednesday in New York, there will be a nationwide protest march on Washington. The Negro integration leaders said representatives of several civil rights organizations will meet later this week to map strategy for the demonstration.

In this charged atmosphere of controversy, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., scheduled hearings by the House Judiciary Committee next week on the package bill.

Besides the public access and school integration sections, it includes a provision authorizing the cutting off of federal funds for projects where racial discrimination is practiced.

Celler noted that an expansion of the manpower training the president asked for is covered in another measure. He said a bill to set up a fair employ practices commission would be considered separately.

Yesterday, however, officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Urban League said Kennedy's call for more funds for job retraining programs is disappointing—because in the South it means training Negroes for menial jobs.

Familiar with the ponderous processes of Congress, Kennedy warned against racial demonstrations that "can lead to violence" while the program is being considered.

Several senators said they don't intend to be pressured by any march on Washington.

One of them, Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), told reporters: "Any tactics of that kind would backfire."

Southern Democrats left no doubt they would use every legislative device, including a Senate filibuster, to prevent any of the president's proposals from reaching a final vote.

POLICE BREAK UP RIOT BY NEGROES

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI) — A mob of about 1,000 angry Negroes hurled bricks and bottles at police and smashed downtown store windows last night in a riot touched off by the arrest of anti-segregation demonstrators.

City policemen, reinforced by state troopers, fired tear gas pellets into the mob to break up the melee that began in front of police headquarters. At least four persons were injured in the violence.

Officers arrested 274 demonstrators, including 200 juveniles, when they refused to leave an area in front of a motel.

Officials met the marchers headed by Ben Clarke, 19, and asked them to turn around. Clarke refused.

Police wagons made shuttle runs to the jail at police headquarters where a crowd of Negroes began gathering.

The Negro onlookers, apparently angered over the arrests, began throwing objects at officers, who retaliated with tear gas.

Sausalito Parking Will Cost 10 Cents

The price of using parking meters in downtown Sausalito will go from five to 10 cents an hour July 18 when an ordinance, adopted Tuesday night by the city council, becomes effective.

Kennedy Film 'PT-109' Makes Its Big Splash

BOSTON (UPI)—"PT-109", the movie version of President John F. Kennedy's wartime exploits, held its world premiere here last night, attracting vast crowds, a sprinkling of celebrities, and mixed reviews from the critics.

The performance was a benefit for Boston charities of all faiths. One policeman described the crush of onlookers near the theater as "the largest since V-J day."

Eleanor Hughes, critic for the Boston Herald, found the performance an "excellent picture, moreover, notable for its restraint in avoiding temptations for flag-waving and prophesying . . ."

The Boston Globe disagreed, finding the picture "unreal." It said, "The glamor of 'PT-109' is in the name of Kennedy. Stripped of the name it becomes relegated to pure adventure of the sea in wartime, with primary appeal to those attuned more to excitement than realism . . ."

Liquor Store Owners Admit Sale To Minor

Ardath C. and Paul C. Tomagno, operators of Arcada Liquors, 643 Del Ganado Road, Terra Linda, have admitted a charge by the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control that their establishment sold liquor to a minor.

A hearing on the charge, set in San Rafael for yesterday, was cancelled and penalty against the Tomagnos will be announced soon, the department reported.

SOVIET PRESS HAILS FEAT OF SPACE TWINS

MOSCOW (AP)—A curly-haired blonde with cornflower blue eyes was hailed today as the world's longest distance woman flier — though she never has flown a plane.

The Soviet Union's space duet, dimple-chinned Lt. Valentina Tereshkova, 26, and her male partner, Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky, 28, landed deep in Siberia yesterday after epic cosmic flights.

The Soviet press and radio hailed the feat of the world's first space girl as a revolution in the role of the weaker sex in modern society."

"Now the name of a woman will stand for centuries among the glorious names of the first discoverers," Tass, the Soviet news agency, declared.

Valentina circled the globe more than 48 times, covering more than 1,240,000 miles in 71 hours before the braking rockets were cut loose on a signal from the ground. She returned to earth in Kazakhstan, about 385 miles northeast of the coal mining center of Karanganda.

Tass pointed out that the four American astronauts who have orbited the globe "together spent nearly 50 per cent less time in space than the 'Seagull' " — the code name used by Valentina.

Bykovsky, overshadowed by the first space woman, landed nearly three hours after she did in the Kustanai region of Kazakhstan, about 1,000 miles southeast of Moscow and 600 miles west of the woman cosmonaut's touchdown.

Bykovsky set a new orbital record, circling the globe more than 81 times in 119 hours and covering more than 2 million miles.

He shattered the record of 64 orbits set last August in a four-day flight of Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, who made history's first dual space flight with Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich.

It was clear that Valentina's work was confined to routine reporting of mechanisms in her space ship and that she had manipulated none of the vital controls.

All the other Soviet cosmonauts, like the Americans, are trained pilots. Valentina is an experienced parachutist, with more than 170 jumps to her credit. But she has no pilot training.

"I only got a bruise on the nose," Valentina told Premier Khrushchev, who telephoned her from Moscow soon after she landed. She didn't explain how she got the bruise and said, "It will pass."

Khrushchev also telephoned his congratulations to Bykovsky, who said he landed without a scratch.

Although earlier Soviet reports indicated both cosmonauts landed inside their space capsules, a correspondent for the labor newspaper Trud reported today that she parachuted from the space ship after it re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

Former Official Suing Title Firm

Robert Mobley of Napa, who started Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin with Rolfe C. Croker of San Rafael seven years ago, is suing Croker for half the company's assets.

Mobley filed the suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday, alleging that he was forced to resign as president and director of Pacific Coast Title "under duress" in December of 1959 and was forced to sign documents including sale and assignment of his stocks to Croker.

Mobley says the value of the stocks is now $314,000, and he should be paid his share of $157,232.

Mobley borrowed $11,000 from Coker in 1956 to buy his half of the company's stocks, while Croker bought the other half. Mobley became president and Croker, vice president.

Mobley says that in 1959, he was accused of illegal and criminal acts against the company. He contends he resigned from the company and signed over his share to Croker because Croker threatened to expose his alleged illegal activities to the district attorney.

Hamilton Airman Hit By Car, Hurt

A/2c Joseph A. Rogers of the 78th Combat Support Group was treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for multiple bruises suffered when he was struck by a car in front of his Petaluma home at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday.

Airman Rogers was standing beside his car when he was struck by another auto driven by Doris Harms of Petaluma, according to Petaluma police. She was cited for driving without due caution, Petaluma police stated.

Americanism Contest Won By Boy, 11

An essay titled "The Pledge of Allegiance and Me" has won Jeff Godwin of San Rafael second place in an Americanism essay contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Godwin, a sixth grade student at Coleman School, competed with students from schools in Marin and four other counties, Sonoma, Solano, Napa and Lake. The contest was sponsored locally by Wilkins Unit No. 37 of the auxiliary.

A Boy Scout, Godwin, 11, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Godwin of 130 Highland Avenue, San Rafael. Godwin is a straight "A" student, plays coronet in the school orchestra and works as a carrier boy for the Independent-Journal.

Stolen Checks In Marin

Wells Fargo Bank cashier's checks, stolen from a printing firm in San Francisco, are being passed in Marin County, police warned today.

The checks passed so far are made out to John Santiago or Jhon (sic) Moreno, and the words "exactly 75 dollars" are stamped in pink with a check protector. About 1,000 of the checks were stolen from the printing company, and at least 10 have already been passed in San Anselmo and San Rafael drug stores, markets and liquor stores.

Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo and Inspector Bowen Bridges of the sheriff's office said most merchants will not question the validity of these checks because they are authentic cashier's checks stolen before they were sent to the bank.

The checks are pale gray with a rust red border around the edges.

Inspector Bridges said the men known to have passed the checks are Latin types, about 19 to 22 years old. One is 5 feet 5 inches and the other about 5 feet 2 inches tall, both weighing about 125 pounds.

Feed manufacture now is a four billion dollar business which, it is estimated, has reached only about one-third of its potential.

ADAPTABLE FEEDERS

Which Way Does Crow Fly? To Nearest Hot Dog Stand

STANFORD (AP)—Crows are such adaptable feeders that they patronize hot dog stands in Hollywood, scientists were told today.

"The voice of the crow is now part of city life" and their robbing of the nests of mocking birds and jays has brought a new noise to urban communities — a new phenomenon, Roland Cass Ross of Los Angeles State College told the 44th annual meeting of the Pacific division, American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

"Crows have survived by adaptation and dispersion," he said.

"Feeding habits have changed." Now in some communities, North Hollywood for instance, "their first flight mornings is to hot dog stands, night gas stations and drive-in movie lots for food debris and light-killed insects before cleanup crews arrive," Ross reported.

College Named For Eisenhower

CLINTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Presbyterian Synod of New York State has approved a proposal to establish a liberal arts college named after former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A synod spokesman said last night that 1.2 million dollars, including one million from an anonymous woman donor, had been pledged for development of the college.

The school will be at Seneca Falls on the shore of Lake Cayuga, one of the state's Finger Lakes.

A citizen's committee at Seneca Falls had proposed the college.

Eisenhower acknowledged plans for naming the college for him in a statement issued through the committee. He described the proposal as a "significant development."

The school will be non-sectarian, co-educational and the enrollment is expected to be about 1,200 pupils, a committee spokesman said.

The spokesman said Eisenhower College is expected to open in September 1965.

Youth-O-Rama $1,100

The Mill Valley Optimist Club earned $1,100 at last week end's fourth annual Youth-O-Rama, chairman Clay Underhill said today. The money is to be used toward building permanent bleachers at the Optimist's ball park, Project 17.

cation's attention to the fact it had not been considered.

Double sessions would be eliminated by (1) use of cafeteria, some other buildings and at least two portables to house classes at San Rafael High for one year, and (2) possible transfer of some students—probably freshmen — to Terra Linda High for one year.

Thirteen members of the committee were present. Chairman W. W. Gudmundson ruled this a quorum of the 25 who finished up the committee's five-month study of school needs last winter.

Gromme and Priestley's master plan was approved on motion of Marion Marks, who called it "the epitome of what an architect is supposed to do." Approval was unanimous except for one abstention.

The building schedule, proposed by Corona, was approved 12-to-1 on motion of Bryce W. Anderson. L. E. Weisenburg Jr. dissented.

The financing plan was moved by Lothar Salin and approved unanimously.

Motion by Marks that the committee call the board's attention to the fact its scheme should eliminate need for double sessions, and recommending the board to "make every possible effort to avoid double sessions," also was voted unanimously.

25-Cent Increase In Tomales School Taxes Approved

A budget of $72,884 for the 1963-64 school year, which calls for an increase of 25 cents in the tax rate, was adopted last night by the Tomales Bay Union School District board.

This year the tax rate was $1.12. It will be $1.37 next year, said Mrs. John Vilicich, secretary to the board.

The trustees called for bids on exterior painting of both Tomales and Marshall Schools.

The $100 contract for library services and audio visual aids was signed with the Marin County superintendent's office.

Gift of a radio and science kit for the science laboratory from the graduating eighth grade, was accepted by the board.

Sanitary District Asks Dredge Bids

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will call for bids July 11 on dredging a 5,500-foot channel into San Pablo Bay for more remote discharge of wastes.

The project was ordered by the State Regional Water Pollution Control Board which objected to the wastes going into the mouth of Las Gallinas Creek. The board asked a report on the project by today.

Mrs. Annie M. Reagan, district secretary, wrote the board Tuesday saying bids would be called July 11 and a contract would be awarded Aug. 8. Completion would be expected 90 days later.

The job is estimated at $40,000.

Shoreline Drain Job Let By State

Road drains will be installed next month on the Shoreline Highway between Bodega Head and Jenner.

William Forde of the E. A. Forde Co. of San Anselmo, low bidder, said one-way traffic will be in effect on the 1.5 mile strip during part of the one-month construction job.

The company bid $69,043 for the state department of public works job compared to $80,398 by Kirkwood-Bly of Santa Rosa and $70,607 by Arthur B. Siri, also a Santa Rosa construction firm.

Vandals Splash Paint On House

Vandals splashed paint over the garage door and driveway of a Terra Linda home, the owner complained to the sheriff yesterday.

Mrs. Maisie M. Raatz of 585 Las Colindas told Deputy Sheriff A. V. Menjou the vandalism probably occurred Tuesday night.

Gladys Abbey of 824 Point San Pedro Road, east of San Rafael, complained last night that someone threw rocks through the glass windbreak in her patio area.

Almonte Club Discusses Room

Almonte Improvement Club directors last night discussed addition of a room to the clubhouse at Almonte Boulevard and Wisteria Way. No action was taken but Homer E. Winfield, committee chairman, said he will investigate prices.

The room, to be 14 by 14 feet, would be added by extending the present deck and putting the room under the deck.

The Mill Valley nursery cooperative nursery school requested permission to add new doors, a cover for the lower playground, and outside water facilities for play purposes. This was taken under advisement, according to Mrs. Rose DeMartini, secretary.

Maritime Union Might Picket

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Maritime Union today threatened to station pickets at all of the nation's ports in a move that could tie up American shipping.

Asst. Labor Sec. James J. Reynolds said the action was threatened by a top aide to Joseph Curran, president of the NMU, but deferred temporarily at government request.

Reynolds said the NMU's action stemmed from an inter-union feud with the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. Both unions are affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

Tachometer Stolen

Theft of a tachometer, valued at $20, between 8 and 11 p.m. last night from an automobile in the carport of the residence of Martin Kearns Murray of 101 Woodlands Avenue, San Rafael, was reported last night to San Rafael police.

Doctorate Awarded

John Maurice Beattie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Beattie of 22A Center Street, San Rafael, was recently awarded a doctor of philosophy degree in history at Cambridge University, England. He was a 1950 graduate of San Rafael High School.

Careful 'Weeding' Set For Sausalito Books

Sausalito library trustees last night instructed librarian Cynthia B. Willcox to proceed with "a real careful 'weeding' of books" in an attempt to increase the number of library users.

The board also directed Mrs. Willcox to update the library's policy which is posted for book borrowers.

OBITUARIES

C. P. Work, Quentin Show Founder Dies

Clifford P. Work, veteran Bay Area showman whose enthusiasm helped build the San Quentin Prison vaudeville show on New Year's Day into the big event of the year at the institution, was buried today in Glendale. He died Monday at the age of 72 in Northridge, Los Angeles County.

Actual initiation of the vaudeville event started before Work's time though he was sometimes erroneously credited with first sponsorship.

Warden Fred R. Dickson and William Van Orsum of San Francisco, long connected with the show, agreed today that the start was nearly 50 years ago, probably in 1914, and due to an idea of then Warden James A. Johnston, who thought the inmates would be cheered by an annual visit of vaudeville stars. First show was staged by Sid Graumann of Hollywood theater fame.

Work, Van Orsum recalled, became active about 30 years ago when Harry Ettling took over the task of staging the annual performances. Both were instrumental in enlisting volunteers and in getting the Bay Area press solidly behind the project.

Work was with vaudeville circuits in Chicago until in 1921 he reached San Francisco to open the Golden Gate Theater, later managing the Orpheum. It was during this period that he became enthusiastic over helping the San Quentin shows and his wide acquaintance among vaudeville performers was of great assistance.

During the depression Work was called to Hollywood to brace the then-faltering Universal Studios. He retired in 1947 after developing well known stars and encouraging producers. His death came after short illness. He is survived by his wife, Anna.

OTTO BORTFELD

Otto Bortfeld, 75, an operating engineer who lived in Marin County from the turn of the century and engaged in construction work throughout the Bay Area, died today at a local hospital after several months' illness.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Born in San Francisco, he was brought to Marin County as a youth by his parents. He lived for years in Mill Valley but his most recent home with his late wife, Mrs. Lovevina A. Bortfeld, was at 1214 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, after which he lived for a time with a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Austin of Santa Venetia.

Other survivors include three sons, J. Elliott and F. Lewis Bortfeld of San Rafael; Otto L. Bortfeld, who formerly lived in San Rafael but is now Martinez chief of police, and Donald G. Bortfeld of San Jose, as well as two sisters, Mrs. James Symon of San Mateo and Mrs. John Porcher, who formerly lived in Mill Valley.

His affiliations included membership in the Improved Order of Redmen, Gennessee Tribe 207, San Rafael, and Gennessee Council 180, Degree of Pocahontas, San Rafael.

FREDA CAGWIN

Mrs. Freda Cagwin, 42, of 3 Tartan Road, Mill Valley, was found dead in her bed yesterday at 5:30 p.m. when her daughters, Cindy, 11, and Barbara, 16, returned home.

Death was apparently from natural causes, county coroner Frank J. Keaton said. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Mrs. Cagwin, wife of Mill Valley realty broker Horace F. Cagwin, was a resident of Marin County for the last 12 years.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

G. E. SCHNEIDER

George E. Schneider, 74, a retired bartender, died yesterday at his home at 101 Locust Avenue, Larkspur, after a protracted illness. He had been a resident of Marin County for 25 years.

Funeral will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo under auspices of Golden West Lodge 455, Free and Accepted Masons, of which Schneider was a member. Inurnment will be private.

Schneider was born in San Francisco and had lived in the Bay Area all his life. Survivors include his wife, Maybelle Schneider, one son, George E. Schneider Jr. who also lives in Larkspur, and one grandson.

MAUDE FRAZIER

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Former Lt. Gov. Maude Frazier, the only woman to hold the office in Nevada's history, died here today at age 82.

Miss Frazier was appointed July 13, 1962—nine days after Lt. Gov. Rex Bell died of a heart attack in Las Vegas while kicking off his campaign for governor on the Republican ticket.

She served until January of 1963 when Paul Laxalt, the present lieutenant governor, took office following the November general election.

Miss Frazier, who was in her sixth term as assemblywoman from Clark County when appointed to the lieutenant governor's chair, began her political career in 1950 following four decades as an educator.

In 1921 she was named deputy state superintendent of schools for Clark, Lincoln and Nye counties. Six years later she became superintendent of Clark County schools, a post she held until her retirement from the school system in 1957.

RUROLPH VENITZ

Rudolph (Mike) Venitz, 74, a retired collector for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., died at a San Rafael hospital yesterday after a short illness.

Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons, of which he was a member, will conduct funeral services at 12:45 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Venitz was also a member of Tamalpais Post 72, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which will conduct memorial services at 8 o'clock tonight at the mortuary.

Born in Pennsylvania, Venitz came to California 47 years ago at the age of 27. Four years later he moved into Marin County where he had lived ever since.

He resided at 18 Jefferson Avenue, Santa Venetia, with his wife Gertrude C. Other survivors include three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Emma Cox, Mrs. Minnie Stoneking, Mrs. Bertha Murr and Karl A. Venitz, all living in Indiana.

Venitz was a veteran of World War I. His affiliations included the Marin Rod and Gun Club and the Pacific Service Employees Assn.

His work for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spanned a period of 34 years.

BIRTHS

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

There will be a lot of young people headed for college this Fall and careers in engineering, chemistry, and electronics. Some of them will have part of their financing already set aside; savings accounts started by practical parents and practical youngsters, too. Well, how about you? What have you done to set the stage for the future? Money will still be the necessary ingredient, chemistry or whatever.

Engineer Becomes Physician At 55

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James A. Rudis wanted to be a doctor. But as a young man he couldn't afford a medical education. So he became an engineer.

But Rudis believes, "If you want to do something, do it."

So, at 42, when he could afford it, he went back to school to study medicine.

Now, at 55, he is ready to launch a second career as Dr. James A. Rudis.

After he completes a year's internship at St. Luke's Hospital on June 27, he plans to open offices in nearby San Carlos.

His original dream to become a doctor was dropped in 1926 because of finances after his graduation from high school in Worcester, Mass. He studied at the state Maritime Academy, sailed for two years as an engine room officer and spent the next 10 years working days and studying mechanical engineering nights at Boston's Northeastern University.

Then he was successively a safety engineer for insurance companies, a naval officer on attack transports in the Atlantic and South Pacific, a consulting engineer in Hawaii, and an engineer in post-war reconstruction of Japan.

By 1950 he felt he was prosperous enough to learn to be a doctor. He enrolled as a premedical student at Stanford, where his son James was a fellow student.

In 1952 he was turned down as too old by 20 American medical schools. So he went abroad and studied medicine at the Free University of Brussels in Belgium. He finally got his degree in 1960 from the Queen's University at Belfast, Ireland, after working for the Air Force in Germany and England in 1954-57.

Marin Ambulance Incorporates

Marin Ambulance Service of Larkspur has incorporated and named officers, co-owner Robert Parker announced today.

Fellow owner John Raggio, former Larkspur fire chief, has been named president and Parker is secretary-treasurer. Serving with them on a board of director and as medical adviser is Dr. Thomas L. Grayson of Larkspur.

The firm will expand "to other points in Marin in six months," beginning with a branch in San Rafael, said Parker. He said he hopes the firm will make a San Rafael site selection in about 30 days. It has been seeking a location near Francisco Boulevard.

The firm, in business since 1956, is located at 4 Ward Street, operating two ambulances and one convalescent car.

Besides branching out, the firm soon will start an ambulance insurance plan, said Parker.

Horse Racing Schedule Bill Goes To Floor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Hugh M. Burns got his bill to increase the number of racing days out of an Assembly committee yesterday—along with an amendment that could bring a veto from Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The amendment to the Fresno Democrat's measure would let the State Horse Racing Board permit night racing, a power it now doesn't have.

Brown has emphasized his opposition to night racing, and Burns pointed this out. The Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee adopted the amendment anyway, on a voice vote. It then approved the bill, but Burns said he would try to remove the amendment, perhaps in an Assembly-Senate conference committee.

The bill would raise thoroughbred racing days in Northern California from 130 to 155, and make it 164 instead of 139 in Southern California.

Twenty-five harness racing days would be added, bringing it to 63 in Southern California and 62 in the north. The same figures would apply to quarter horse racing.

Texas is the leader in gas production, with Louisiana a close second.

Senate Approves Urban Affairs Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate voted 21 to 11 late yesterday for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill setting up five-member commissions in each county to pass on formation of new cities or special districts.

The measure by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) now returns to the Assembly for action on Senate amendments.

Senate approval sets the stage for final action on another of Brown's urban affairs bills—a measure by Sen. Eugene Nisbet (D-Upland) giving the same county commissions power to pass on annexations to cities or districts.

The Nisbet bill awaits a Senate vote on Assembly amendments.

The Senate turned down amendments to the Knox bill to make the commissions merely advisory. They were offered by Sen. Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose).

Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan (D-Santa Rosa), carrying the Knox bill in the upper house, said California has more than 3,000 districts, and they are increasing at more than 50 a year. He said there are only 14,400 such districts in the whole United States, and "the best government is the least government."

Star Takes Own Life

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pedro Armendariz, 51, cancer-stricken Mexican movie star, shot and killed himself yesterday at the UCLA Medical Center. Armendariz, often called "the Clark Gable of Mexico," appeared in numerous motion pictures including "Three Godfathers," "Fort Apache," "The Conqueror," "Tulsa" and "The Littlest Outlaw."

Three of the world's 10 largest islands are in northern Canada.

BELVEDERE TEEN-AGERS PLAY 'DEAD CHICKEN'

Some Belvedere teen-agers have a new and dangerous game, stopping cars at night by lying in the middle of the street.

Police officer Conrad F. Tarabella was called at 11 p.m. yesterday by someone saying that "kids are entering cars" on Beach Road near San Rafael Avenue.

As Tarabella drew up at the scene, he found a girl lying in the middle of Beach Road and saw a car stop and detour around her.

The cars being entered, Tarabella found, were those of the teen-agers themselves.

San Rafael Woman Injured In Crash

A San Rafael woman suffered left shin injuries yesterday when the car in which she was riding collided with a truck making a U-turn in Novato Boulevard.

The eastbound car of Maxine La Vonne Clason, 52, of 43 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, collided near the Western city limit of Novato about 1:10 p.m. with a pickup truck driven by Raymond Anderson, 34, of Modesto, said California Highway Patrolman T. E. McGuire.

Ellen Stephenson, 60, of 111 G Street, San Rafael, riding in the Clason car, was to see her doctor.

State Tax Bill Vote Set

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax bills were ready at last for a Senate vote today, with budget deadlock until tomorrow midnight adjournment threatened whether they pass or not.

The tax bills were sent to the Senate floor yesterday by the Finance Committee.

Republicans say if all the bills pass, they will block the budget in the Assembly.

Democrats say if they don't pass, the budget can't be approved.

The tax bills, which would raise $147 million to help balance the $3.25 billion budget proposed by Brown, include one to start payroll withholding of state income taxes on Oct. 1, 1964.

Two-house conference committees were holding back the budget and the huge school appropriation bill pending action on the tax proposals.

Another Brown proposal—a bill to ban discrimination in housing—remained bottled up in the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee. No action was scheduled.

The budget and the biggest of the tax bills require two-thirds approval by both houses.

The Democrats are two votes shy of a two-thirds margin in the Assembly, and one short in the Senate because of the illness of Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez).

Assembly Republicans say the withholding bill must be killed before they will vote for the budget.

Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-Calaveras) says if the tax package fails the budget must be cut by $80 million below the Assembly's figure — which he predicted would make it unacceptable to either house.

If no budget is passed by tomorrow midnight, Brown will be forced to keep the lawmakers overtime in special session.

Sen. Luther E. Gibson (D-Vallejo) scheduled another closed-door session of his Governmental Efficiency Committee, which has had the housing discrimination bill "under submission" for a month.

Gibson said he just doesn't know what will be done. He said there is no agreement between himself and the bill's author Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley), author of the bill.

The Congress of Racial Equality continued its sit-in in the Capitol rotunda demanding passage of the housing bill. The sit-in took a new twist with five CORE members starting a hunger strike.

The five sat on the floor outside the Senate chamber last night but were not seen by the Senators, who left by other doors when the session broke up near midnight. The main doors have been kept closed since a lie-in demonstration by CORE in the doorway last week.

The Senate sustained Gov. Brown's veto of a bill exempting intangible values of movies from personal property taxes and passed two of the governor's proposals—a bill creating a new General Services Department to take over housekeeping functions of the Finance Department, and a measure to set up county commissions to pass on formation of new cities or special districts.

The senators also approved bills prohibiting doctors from owning pharmacies except in doctor-owned hospitals, forbidding residents of Communist countries from inheriting California property, outlawing the dyeing of baby chicks and rabbits, and forbidding anybody but police from using electronic devices to eavesdrop on private conversations.

Tavern Owner Claims Minor Seemed Older

Charles Peri, owner of Peri's Tavern in Fairfax, threatened with a brief liquor license suspension for selling a vodka drink to a 19-year-old youth on March 5 and 14 of this year, testified yesterday that the youth appeared to be about 28 years old.

Attorney Hadden W. Roth of Mill Valley, representing Peri, argued at a State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control hearing in San Rafael that Peri had no intent nor was he negligent in serving Robert J. Ewasko of Bolinas.

"Invoking the law would do more harm than good," Roth told hearing officer R. J. Armstrong. Peri has held a liquor license for 30 years and this is the first violation he has been accused of, Roth said.

Attorney W. Jerome Thomas of the department's office in San Francisco, said that lack of intent is not a defense in the law against serving minors.

Thomas asked that Peri's license be suspended 15 days with provision for a 10-day stay —suspending the license, in other words, just five days.

Armstrong promised to consider the case carefully. His decision is expected in about six weeks.

Cop Strikes Out Bat In Mill Valley Bedroom

"There's a bat in my bedroom," Policeman John Castellani of Mill Valley was told at 12:55 a.m. Tuesday by Mrs. F. W. Etzold of 31 Bigelow Avenue.

Baseball conscious Castellani went to the scene, took the necessary action, then wrote in the police log: "Went to the bat and struck it out."

Killer Must Die

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the death penalty for Oscar Shipp, convicted of a Los Angeles murder. Shipp had been found guilty of murder for beating Albert Hawley and robbing him of 10 cents in a Los Angeles hotel on New Year's Eve, 1961.

Urgency Ordinance Hikes All Mill Valley Fees

A 15-page urgency ordinance revising Mill Valley's fee schedule, from business licenses to bicycle licenses, was quickly voted last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

The ordinance bases business licenses on gross receipts for most businesses, with annual fees ranging from $36 for firms doing less than $25,000 business a year to $120 for those with receipts topping one million dollars.

Flat rates were set for many businesses, including $200 a year for peddlers, $135 for skating rinks, dance halls and theaters, and $250 for carnivals.

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants estimated city receipts from business licenses would be increased by about one-third over the $18,000 budget estimate. He said he did not know the final effect of the other fee changes.

Councilman Michael Wornum asked whether the chamber of commerce were satisfied with the proposal, and was told it was, as much as could be expected.

The only objection came from a member of the audience who decried a jump in bicycle license fees from 50 cents to 75 cents a year.

Almcrants added later that at present the fees for building inspections and planning applications are designed to pay the operation costs of these functions, so that new fee schedule is expected to produce some additional revenue.

Thieves Break Machine

The coin box on a bleach machine at the automatic laundry at 1108 Grant Avenue, Novato, was broken and about $7 in dimes stolen, Woodley B. Smith of 389 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, operator of the laundry, reported to Novato police yesterday.

SAC Men Fire Missile

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command crew fired a Minuteman Intercontinental Ballistic Missile down the Pacific Missile Range yesterday under simulated combat conditions. It was the first time a SAC crew launched a Minuteman without the aid of research personnel under the Air Force Systems Command.

Mill Valley Raises Pay By About 5%

A pay raise of about 5 per cent was approved last night for Mill Valley city employees, and the city council named a committee to look into "inequities" in salaries.

Further pay raises will be given, perhaps retroactive to July 1, if pay for particular jobs is found to be far out of line—and if the city has the money, councilmen said.

The employees had asked for a two-step increase, as had been recommended by City Manager A. E. Almcrants. This raise would have amounted to about 9½ per cent.

The proposal made earlier by the councilmen was a one-step increase, then conversion to the state salary schedule, then a one step increase on the state plan, amounting in total to about 7½ per cent and costing the city about $27,000.

The action taken, with simply a one step hike and conversion to the state schedule, would leave money left over for individual job pay increases. It was proposed by Councilman George Monardo, who said that blanket increases were perpetuating some unfair situations.

Councilman George Blackwell commented he would like to give a two-step increase, acknowledging that Mill Valley workers are the lowest paid in the county in most jobs. But he said he felt property owners had been pushed as far as possible with the property tax.

"If we could produce another source of revenue," Blackwell said, "then it could go to the employees." He mentioned a proposed surcharge on sewer fees paid by industries and businesses using large amounts of water. City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said such a charge would be legal, based either on the number of fixtures or the flow.

"This is ridiculous!" shot back Councilman Michael Wornum. "The salaries of police and firemen shouldn't depend on the amount of water going through our sewers."

Regarding the salary study, Police Sgt. William Walsh, vice president of the employees' association, said it will be difficult in some departments to find comparable jobs in other jurisdictions.

Anyhow, he said, pay is much too low for people who have to find housing in the Mill Valley area.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks named Monardo to head the committee to study inequities, with Wornum and Councilman William M. Secor as members, along with Almcrants and a representative to be named by the employees.

The council gave formal approval to a plan to eventually widen East Blithedale Avenue to four lanes between Camino Alto and Highway 101.

Also approved were tentative maps for two units of the Scott Valley subdivision, although two councilmen vowed to hold up annexation of the land to the city until a binding commitment is made on setting aside five acres for recreational area.

On the road widening, the council overruled the planning commission by agreeing to allow a left turn at Herb's Lane, with the understanding the city would close off the turn if it became a hazard. City Engineer Stanley Bala said he did not think it would be.

The subdivision approval came only after a new protest by property owners in the area.

Scott Valley Developer Earlen J. Friberg said he was agreeable to having deed restrictions insuring that the recreation land would be set aside, but also announced that the homeowners association had filed a complaint with the State Division of Real Estate, which would hold a hearing.

Jordan explained that the city cannot require the recreation land as a condition on a tentative map, but could refuse to annex the land for any reason at all.

The council also approved the Highland Annexation and first reading of an ordinance tightening procedure on tentative subdivision maps.

Final approval for a change of meeting day from Wednesday to Monday, effective the first meeting in August, was voted, and an ordinance making official the functions of the architectural advisory committee was given an informal approval.

The majority of the agenda was not acted upon, and the council decided to meet again at 8 p.m. today.

Point Reyes Man Hurt In Smashup

Charles E. Denman, 72, of Point Reyes Station escaped with scalp cuts last night when his car plunged off the Point Reyes Station-Petaluma Road into a ditch.

The car went through 167 feet of brush and then left 100 feet of tire tracks on the road shoulder before landing upside down in the west ditch, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Denman was pulled out of his car by Mitchell A. Thorson of 1624 Center Road, Novato, about 8:45 p.m., said CHP Officers Keith Craig and Mervin Williams.

Denman, going north on the road about one half mile south of the Hicks Valley Road, said he must have fallen asleep. He was treated at Novato Hospital.

Bircher Says Treat Reds 'Same Way We Did Hitler'

Alger Hiss was the key organizer.

"Some of us don't think he was on our side," Rousselot said.

The United Nations charter has many direct conflicts with the U.S. Constitution, he said. The under-secretary general for political and security council affairs has always been a Communist, he declared.

"Some of us don't think it wise to place our armed forces under that kind of leadership," Rousselot said.

Rousselot said the proposed disarmament plan, now close to agreement in Geneva, is a three-phase program originally proposed by Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1959. This same program was adopted four or five months later in the United States by the Women's Strike for Peace, by a citizen's council appointed by the Council of Foreign Relations in 1961, and by the State Department in a pamphlet "Freedom from War," also in 1961, claimed Rousselot.

Finally it was endorsed by President John F. Kennedy and presented to the United Nations as the United States' "bold new plan for disarmament," the speaker declared.

The former congressman called for elimination of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, formed under the Kennedy administration. He said it has the power to eliminate weapons, a power constitutionally resting with Congress and the president.

Rousselot drew applause when he said an investigation of policy-making methods of the State Department "is long over-due."

One questioner, who did not identify himself asked what "positive ideas Rousselot had to achieve peace."

Rousselot said "we should do exactly as we did with Hitler" and break diplomatic relations with Russia. His suggestion that trade relations also be broken again brought applause.

Rousselot said he did not believe his defeat in last year's congressional election was due to his membership in the John Birch Society. He laid it to redistricting and a Democratic influx of paid precinct workers.

Rousselot said the Birch society is an educational body and not tied to any political party. He claimed that 35 per cent of the members in California are Democrats.

Dominican Enrollment For Summer Scheduled

Registration for Dominican College summer program will be held at Guzman Hall on the campus from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The six-week session begins Monday. Courses include English, French, Greek, Latin, history and philosophy. There will also be workshops for secondary school teachers in English, mental hygiene and physical fitness. These run for periods shorter than the six-week periods of the regular summer courses.

Sheriffs Pick Chief

HOBERGS (UPI)—Sheriff Melvin Willmirth of Fresno County was elected president of the California Sheriff's Assn. yesterday at its annual conference at Hoberg's Resort, Lake County.

The association unanimously approved a resolution opposing police review boards. It held that police officers already are accountable to grand juries, judges and district attorneys and should not be additionally accountable to citizens' boards.

ARGENTINE LIKES AIR RESCUE UNIT

Yankee efficiency has produced a true do-it-yourself technique in Hamilton Air Force Base's Western Air Rescue Center, a visitor from Argentina observed yesterday.

Alberto Maximo Astorga, chief inspector for the Bureau of Aeronautical Accident Investigation in his native land, said he admired the versatility he observed here.

"These men can pilot a plane, be frogmen or survive anywhere in the world whether jungle or Arctic," he declared. He contrasted the arrangement with Argentina's, where if the civilian-operated air rescue needs a frogman it must call on the navy, or for an airplane it has to draw on the air force.

Three men from Hamilton have been sent to Argentina to teach use and maintenance of 18 SA-16 or Albatross aircraft for air rescue operations. They are Capt. Jerome Rice and S/Sgt. Robert Mix of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron and T/Sgt. Clarence Boles of Western Air Rescue.

Astorga has been taking a three months flying safety course at the University of Southern California and also visited the Air Force Flying Safety Officers School at Norton Air Force Base. He will go next to Oklahoma City, Washington, D.C., and New York City for further study before return home after half a year to take charge of the flight safety program for all Argentina, conducting investigation of plane accidents.

San Francisco, he commented, is "a cross between Paris and Buenos Aires."

Local Organizations Open Montecito Carnival Booths

Something new has been added to the annual summer carnival of the Montecito Shopping Center at Third and Grand in San Rafael, which opened today and will run through Saturday from noon to 10 p.m.

In addition to the 10 rides of Great Western Shows, and carnival games of skill, four local public service organizations are operating game booths.

Montecito Merchants Group invited service organizations to participate. Booths are being operated by the Catholic Social Service of Marin; American Cancer Society, Marin Chapter; San Rafael Ward of the Latter-day Saints Church, and the San Rafael National Little League.

Airman On Cycle Hurt

Airman Victor Ambrose Delguy, 21, who lives in barracks on Hamilton Air Force Base, was injured about 10 p.m. yesterday when his motorcycle was upset by a dog on Olive Avenue east of Rebecca Way, Novato police reported. He was taken to the base hospital by United Ambulance and treated for abrasions.

Supervisors Hold Off On Raising Dog Fees

Dog owners in Marin may not be paying their share of county pound expenses, Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday, but the board was not about to be blamed for any proposal to increase dog license fees.

"Let the cities do that," said Acting Chairman William D. Fusselman.

County Administrator Alan Bruce and Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, said dog owners are not paying a fair share of cost of operating the county pound, since license fees account for only 50 per cent of total pound costs.

"It's about time to raise the fees," said Bruce. Morse said cities in the county "are now considering increasing license fees from $3 to $4 a year."

"Remember, that's your idea, not ours," Fusselman told Bruce.

Supervisor Peter Behr said, however, an increase in fees might be a good idea.

"I was almost run out of town on a rail," he said, "for suggesting, when I was on the Mill Valley City Council, that cats be licensed, too. But there are dogs all over, and people who don't own dogs who are paying more than their share."

Morse said licensing of cats would be just about impossible. Besides being hard to catch, they are not considered personal property under state law, and most of all, cat owners would raise an endless protest.

"Cats and redwoods are sacrosanct," commented Behr.

The board approved a proposed $99,000 budget for the pound, but took no action on any increase in fees—for either dogs or cats.

Bridge Tax Refund Bill Gets Approval

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill requiring the Golden Gate Bridge District to refund money to its six county members passed the Senate yesterday and went to the governor.

The bill (SB1628) by Sen. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) would return to the counties taxes levied in the early 1930s for bridge planning. The counties are San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Mendocino and Del Norte.

'George' Keeps Punching, But Is It Worth It?

By RANDALL GOULD

A supervisor named George made a telling point about a machine named George yesterday.

Said Supervisor George Ludy in the course of budget consideration of county data processing, which centers about "electric brain 1401," known as George:

"If we didn't have that thing we'd hire more people, who would spend money in the county. George doesn't spend any money."

Other supervisors pointed out that George cost plenty of money. To this his boss, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, replied that he also saved plenty.

Acting Chairman William D. Fusselman recalled that the board had been recently told of "one less person" in data processing, yet the budget disclosed that four were being hired in the next fiscal year—a tabulating operator, a control clerk and two key punch operators, to be servants of George.

"It's all not as rosy as people would have you believe," jibed Fusselman.

"Relate it to the work load," urged Mitchell. "More work is being done for more departments."

"The cost of the four persons is more than the revenue they'll bring," said Ludy. "I think in the next couple of years George will prove beneficial to the county, but it has not been proved yet."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss suggested that "if we didn't hire those four people the departments might be hiring eight or 10." He added that the data processing department was mighty hard-working, "punching all the time."

"That's another thing," said Fusselman. "It's going to shake this building down. I wanted an engineer to study it."

Administrator Alan Bruce reported that next year the data processing bureau will handle a voter registration project and a major expansion of welfare applications.

The budget was passed with minor updating by Mitchell. He said the net budget for data processing amounts to but $61,000 because, though the total budget is $281,000, revenue from data processing as a service operation will return $220,000.

Moreover, he said, data processing will soon be extended into the recorder's office.

JOHN J. DOWNES
Bank vice president

Downes Given Top Bank Job

Appointment of John J. Downes of 339 West Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur, as a vice president of Crocker-Anglo National Bank has been announced by Paul E. Hoover, chairman of the board.

Downes has held the title of assistant to the chairman of the board. As a vice president he will be engaged in special administrative projects.

Prior to joining Crocker-Anglo in 1958 he was a practicing attorney and in government service in Washington, D.C.

Born and educated in San Francisco, Downes is a graduate of University of San Francisco and Harvard Law School, and a World War II veteran. He has served as a faculty member of Hastings College of Law and of the law school of University of San Francisco.

College Student Housing Needed

Housing is needed for about 100 foreign and other out-of-district students who will attend College of Marin in September, Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond announced today.

"We need room and board accommodations close to the campus for the students, who will arrive in late August," said Diamond.

He said the housing should include proper conditions for study and if possible three meals a day. Average cost for room and meals has ranged from $70 to $90 a month.

U.S.-To-Japan Mission Flops

HONOLULU (UPI)—Only nine of the flight of 18 Marine F8 Crusader Jets, taking part in a United States-to-Japan training mission, reached Hawaii yesterday on the first leg of the mission.

One crashed in flames in the Pacific, and eight others were forced to turn back to El Toro Air Station in California.

The pilot of the crashed plane ejected from the aircraft and was rescued.

Spending Goes Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total government spending approximated 173 billion dollars in fiscal 1962, roughly 12 billion more than fiscal 1961, according to Tax Foundation, Inc. The total for 1950 was a mere 70 billion dollars.

SUMMER WAR ON WEEDS DECLARED

Mill Valley Police Close Car Thefts

Mill Valley police yesterday placed a 16-year-old boy in Juvenile Hall after he admitted stealing five cars in the last three months.

The Mill Valley boy, charged with car theft, said he took cars from both Purity stores and Safeway parking lots as well as from homes. He was apprehended Tuesday night in San Francisco in a car stolen from Thomas Brown of 270 Eldridge Avenue. The boy first said the car had been loaned to him, then admitted taking it.

Mill Valley ponce, Chief Dan Terzich said today, have helped recover 10 cars in the past week stolen from Mill Valley.

Two men, Gerald E. Bailey, 19, and William E. Harris, 20, were turned over to the U.S. marshal in San Francisco yesterday after being arrested in San Francisco in two stolen cars. One of the cars was allegedly stolen from Mrs. F. Howard Lascy's home at 17 Roques Moraes Drive. License plates on it had been replaced, Terzich said.

San Anselmo Petition Will Seek Change From Apartment Zoning

A petition bearing 267 signatures will be presented to the San Anselmo Planning Commission at its July 15 meeting asking for rezoning of property on Sonoma Avenue behind San Anselmo Memorial Park from apartments to single family.

Thomas Stoddard, president of the San Anselmo Homes Assn. which collected the signatures, said the association was not against apartment projects, but in this case the property was "poorly spot zoned."

The association decided last night to ask the county planning commission at a public hearing on rezoning of the Short Ranch on July 1 for an access route from the area to somewhere near the Hub intersection.

Stoddard said that existing streets are "pretty narrow" to handle traffic for the planned 130 homes of the Del May Corp. project.

The officers for the present year were re-elected last night. They are: Stoddard, president; Rene Henry, vice president; Joseph Lais, treasurer; Jill Henry, recording secretary, and Earlene Wolf, corresponding secretary.

Tiburon Fire District Sets Final Budget

A final 1963-64 budget of $108,840 was approved by the Tiburon Fire Protection District last night.

This includes salaries, $43,290; maintenance, $12,550; reserve, $23,000, and capital outlay, $27,000. The last includes $12,000 for a firehouse addition, and $9,500 for a pumper truck.

Although this year's budget was $80,554, the tax rate will not be increased over the present 66 cents because of available reserve funds, Commissioner Fred C. Hannahs said.

The commission voted to meet once a month instead of twice and selected the second Tuesday of each month.

A resolution approving a contract with the State Retirement Board for paid employees was adopted, effective next Jan. 1.

The new Safeway store and Smith Ridge subdivision were approved for fire protection.

Tourist Hurt Roots

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—Tourists' feet are harming giant redwoods in Big Basin Redwoods State Park by compacting the soil, according to Darrell Knoefler, a beach and parks official.

PATROLMAN GIVES SAFETY TIPS, DISCOVERS OWN CAR SIDESWIPED

California Highway Patrolman Paul E. Zensius lectured College of Marin students about judging distances at his class in traffic safety on the campus last night.

Later he found his car, parked on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Maple Avenue, Kentfield, had been sideswiped about 8 p.m. by a car driven by Robert D. Ahrens, 15, Redwood High School pupil of 13 Maple Avenue.

Ahrens said he had just pulled out of Maple and headed north on Drake when he drove too closely to the parked car because of oncoming traffic.

Marin CORE Aims Campaign At Negro Job Opportunity

Establishment of equal job opportunities for Negroes in Marin will be the first aim of the newly formed Marin chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, members agreed last night.

The second meeting of the chapter was attended by 26 persons in the lounge at Marin City. The group agreed to continue meetings every two weeks, on Tuesday or Wednesday evenings.

"We should take a look at any discrimination in jobs in private or public operations," said President Douglas Quiett, "and work toward agreements with personnel directors for equal opportunity."

San Rafael attorney Hadden W. Roth commented there may be "too many committees being formed to work effectively. He suggested the need for his own Human Rights Committee of the Democratic Central Committee in Marin may be eliminated since another coordinating council on human rights was formed this week.

CORE members agreed to assess $2 annual dues for the chapter in addition to study of other fund-raising means to pay for printing leaflets and stationery.

Transit No-Strike Provision Draws Labor Council Ire

Members of the Marin County Labor Council voted last night to tell Assemblyman William T. Bagley the council is opposed to inclusion of compulsory arbitration and no-strike clauses in the Marin Transit Authority bill.

The bill would give Marin County supervisors authority to establish a county-wide transit system. The no-strike clause would prevent employees of other transit systems from striking if these systems came under the proposed transit authority.

The council last night also voted to inform the United States senators from California and Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) that the council supports President John F. Kennedy's stand on civil rights.

Strawberry Rec Directors Adopt Budget Of $24,724

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night adopted a 1963-64 district budget of $24,724 and said they expect that to hold the same tax rate, 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The budget for 1962-63 was $84,913, but of this $56,000 was budgeted for the newly installed swimming pool.

In the next year's budget, $1,500 is for salaries which include a swimming program director, a teen-age program director, and park maintenance. Capital expenditures, to include grading, landscaping and other development of Strawberry Park, total $18,475.

It was announced that repairs of cracks in the Strawberry swim club pool are still not complete. It will be necessary, according to Patricia M. Gowen, secretary, to later close the pool for one week to make the repairs. The pool was opened about two weeks ago.

Signups for the first swimming classes will be July 2 and the session begins July 9. The second session starts July 25. Mrs. Per Rundberg is director of the swim program which will meet Red Cross standards, Mrs. Gowen said.

Way Is Found For Cheaper Hydrogen

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A revolutionary catalyst is expected to reduce by as much as 25 per cent the cost of many of the new plants needed to meet soaring industrial demands for hydrogen.

Aspirin-size pellets called "G-66" do such an efficient job of converting carbon monoxide impurities, according to Chemetron catalyst specialists, that up to one million dollars may be cut from the cost of typical large plants producing eight to nine billion cubic feet of hydrogen a year.

Supervisors Pass $11,860 Budget For Civil Defense

An $11,860 budget for civil defense was approved by Marin County supervisors yesterday in four minutes flat.

"I hope there's no thought going around in your mind that any of the board members would do away with the office of civil defense," Supervisor George Ludy told Asst. Civil Defense Director Jean Smith.

"I did wonder," Mrs. Smith said.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William A. Gnoss had commented earlier on the trend toward abolition of civil defense programs.

In a two-page report, Mrs. Smith answered the question, "Just what does your department accomplish?"

Her list included improvements and maintenance of seven first aid stations, establishment of an emergency disaster ambulance plan, classes in radiological monitoring, writing of disaster plans for schools, and marking fallout shelters.

This year's budget for civil defense was $13,916.

Mill Valley Insurance Goes To Lamb

By a 4 to 1 vote last night, the Mill Valley City Council voted to give its insurance business to Frank Lamb, who resigned last week as chairman of the city's planning commission.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said he could not approve the action, although there was no longer a legal conflict of interest.

Minutes later, the council passed a policy on the question of conflict of interest, declaring that no city councilman or commission member can do work for the city for pay. The policy also applied to other city officers, who will not be allowed to appear before the city representing private individuals.

The insurance action came after Sheeks read a letter from the firm of Mash and McLennan-Cosgrave and Co., withdrawing its proposal to serve the city.

Lamb had offered to provide coverage for about $1,500 less a year, but there was a question whether coverage would be equal.

Engineers To Deepen 5 Channels

MARTINEZ (AP) — Army Engineers outlined a 60.9-million-dollar project yesterday for deepening five channels in San Francisco Bay to accomodate larger vessels.

Golden Gate channel would be deepened from 50 to 55 feet; Richmond harbor from 35 to 45 feet; San Pablo-Mare Island strait channel from 35 to 45 feet; Suisun Bay channel from 35 to 45 feet, and the Antioch harbor approach from 30 to 45 feet, when justified by traffic demands.

Ben E. Nutter, executive director of the Port of Oakland, opposed all phases of the project except the deepening of the Gate.

He opposed spending 48-million-dollar to open the Richmond-Stockton waterway to the biggest ships of the world.

"We believe that federally-aided ports are destructive to existing ports built by local taxpayers," he said.

Some landowners sought assurances from the engineers that levees would be strengthened to protect them against the increased wave action of the deeper draft ships.

CHARLES S. MOTT
128-Million-Dollar Gift

Huge Donation Granted For Education Program

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Charles Stewart Mott, who has shared his automotive fortune with his neighbors for decades, was able to keep his latest gift, worth 128 million dollars a secret for nearly six weeks.

The 88-year-old philanthropist gave 1,826,421 General Motors shares, worth more than $70 apiece, to a nonprofit organization he had set up in his home town of Flint in 1935 with the Flint Board of Education as administrator.

The transfer of stock came to light in a report filed with the New York Stock Exchange and the Securities Exchange Commission.

Directors and large stockholders of corporations whose securities are traded on registered exchanges are required by law to furnish such information.

Until May 10, Mott was the largest single stockholder of General Motors Corp. Nobody knows exactly how much Mott has given away in his lifetime, but it runs into the tens of millions of dollars.

Mott outlined general areas in which his gift will be spent. Trustees of the foundation will allocate it by the end of July.

The community problem areas mentioned by Mott include:

Occupational training and re-training, for school dropouts and unemployed adults.

Promotion of interracial understanding.

An attempt to make Flint citizens aware of municipal problems.

Mott's fortunes began in 1909, with the sale of a 49 per cent interest in a wheel-making business to GM.

He received GM stock worth $1,481,000 in the transaction.

SO WHO NEEDS A FIREPROOF FIREHOUSE?

What happens if the firehouse roof catches fire?

Chances that it will be speedily brought under control are evidently considered good by the architectural firm of Roger F. Hooper and Associates, planners of the Marinwood Community Building and Firehouse.

The Hooper firm has asked the Marin County Board of Appeals to waive requirements for fire-retardant roofing with regard to a portion of the roof covered with wood shingles.

Chief Building Inspector Hans J. Berge has called a meeting of the appeal board for 8 p.m. next Monday in Room 413, Civic Center, to evaluate perils as against safeguards and decide whether a waiver shall be granted.

French author Voltaire reportedly drank 50 cups of coffee a day when he was 80.

Thresher Tragedy Blamed On Piping

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Navy report containing grim details of the death throes of the nuclear submarine Thresher today blamed failure of a piping system for the April 10 sea tragedy that cost 129 lives.

A naval court of inquiry concluded that the piping failure—which led to flooding and then to loss of electric power—was the "most probable" cause of the first disaster in nuclear submarine history.

The Navy announced that steps already have been taken to "assure the integrity of a high pressure piping system on all Navy ships."

Navy Secretary Fred Korth said "some re-scheduling of submarine construction dates and overhaul intervals will be required."

The court reported that it found no evidence of sabotage or hostile action concerning the Thresher and no evidence of "fault, negligence or inefficiency" on the part of anyone connected with the Navy.

"The basic design of the Thresher class submarine is good," the court of inquiry declared.

The court criticized the escort vessel Skylark for not conveying "to the operational commanders the full extent of the information available" when the Thresher encountered trouble in the Atlantic.

Firemen Say Open Fires Must Stop

Burning of weeds or cuttings in the open is no longer permitted within the Tiburon Fire Protection District. All permits so issued are now void, Capt. Charles Pruett, fire prevention officer, announced today.

If an incinerator has been inspected by the fire department and a permit issued, it may be used during the dry summer under regulations of the permit, Pruett said.

Any portable or permanent barbecue installation outside the home also requires a fire department permit.

Divorce Granted —Almost A Contest

Mrs. Phyllis H. Herr of 104 Chester Avenue, Fairfax, won an uncontested divorce in Marin Superior Court today.

But in the courtroom corridors, it was anything but uncontested. Her attorney, Robert W. Corlett of San Rafael, said the husband had threatened to kill her. And sure enough, lurking outside was Richard E. Herr, a salesman, who was not fighting the divorce legally but was apparently intent on stopping her physically.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson and Lt. Carl Sears, called in to keep the peace, said Mrs. Herr spotted her husband and dashed into the district attorney's office for help. Fearing physical harm, she refused to leave the D.A.'s office until officers had picked up her husband, who had dashed outside the courthouse.

Deputy Sheriff James Kane, who found Herr sitting in his parked car, said the man was not armed and put up no resistance. He was being held in the sheriff's office while papers were being prepared to have him confined to a hospital for observation.

Siamese Twins Separated; Doctors' Fingers Crossed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Surgeons have separated 14-day-old Siamese twin girls in an operation that is rarely successful. The infants were doing fairly well today.

The four-hour operation yesterday at Children's Hospital "came off as well as we could ask for," said Dr. William B. Kiesewetter, the hospital's chief surgeon.

"They are doing as well as we can expect," he added. "They are breathing comfortably, and their color is good. However, we need three to five days before we can guess whether they're out of danger.

"We are somewhat encouraged that their initial response has been favorable."

The girls, Rose Mary and Ruth Ann, were born June 7 to Mrs. John Temoshenko, 32, of nearby Tartentum.

The beaming mother said after the operation:

"They looked just beautiful. I can't find the words to say anymore. They just look beautiful."

The twins shared one organ—their liver—before the surgery. Kiesewetter said the liver was large enough to divide in half. The girls were joined from the fourth rib to below the navel.

During most of the operation, Mrs. Temoshenko stayed in the hospital chapel with her husband, John, 35, a metal shop employee.

Temoshenko and his wife, Therese, have a 3-year-old daughter and twin boys, James and John, 27 months.

Campus Cigarette Ad Programs Cancelled

NEW YORK (AP)—Some major cigarette manufacturers have decided to discontinue advertising and promotion on college campuses, says George V. Allen, president of the Tobacco Institute.

Allen said last night the companies plan to stop taking ads in college newspapers, magazines and football programs.

No. 1 Best-seller in Marin (32,217 copies read nightly)

Readers alone make a best-seller. Readers alone make the Independent-Journal the most-sought, most-bought publication in Marin County—by far.

Two out of every three Marin families make the I-J their "personal" newspaper. In fact, readership is so widespread in the county that this has earned the I-J an unusual distinction:

It is today one of the very few daily newspapers in the U.S. with more circulation than the population of its "home", or publication city.

The explanation is simple enough: we report all Marin . . . the local events that have meaning for each town, each area, each family. That's our first responsibility to you as a citizen and as a subscriber.

But not our last. We bring world news on stage. We add the light of editorial interpretation . . . the perspectives of nationally known columnists. We add entertainment. And we experiment with new formats, new features and new ideas.

The secret then, of being the No. 1 best-seller in Marin, is in meeting your interests night after night, page after page.

But that's hardly a secret . . . when it's a fact.

No. 1 best-seller for advertisers, too
• Puts your message within the format of full readership.
• Puts you in direct contact with ⅔ of Marin's families.
• Gives you certified, paid circulation—not guesswork.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Moving Costs Will Drop Soon In Some Parts Of Marin County

After July 15 it will be cheaper to move large households and some small shipments from most Marin County points to Los Angeles. But intermediate-size lots may run higher.

The California Public Utilities Commission has authorized sweeping changes in minimum rates for moving carriers, resulting in both reductions and increases throughout the state. Generally speaking, reductions will be more in evidence on shipments traveling more than 100 miles; new weight brackets favor reductions on more than 8,000 pounds.

Marin County is peculiarly affected. Two geographical regions in the state have been created, with different mileage rates.

The line that separates them in Marin wiggles along a course which will leave residents on one side of certain streets in Tamalpais Valley and Kent Woodlands paying $60-$100 more on some hauls than their opposite neighbors and householders a block or so away.

Other changes include the application of hourly rates on hauls up to 50 constructive miles instead of the present limit of 30 constructive miles.

Tom King, secretary of the North Bay chapter of the California Moving and Storage Assn., says moving companies in Marin and Solano Counties will be affected more adversely than other sections of the state and are disappointed in the new complicated rate structure.

ANOTHER AUCTION of unclaimed storage goods is on the calendar for next Saturday morning at Crockett's Van and Storage, 522 B Street, San Rafael.

All types of furniture and other household articles will go to the highest bidder. A large supply of sealed cartons, boxes, barrels and other containers (contents unknown) are said to be included in the storage lots.

Bidding on these attracts as much interest as a "fast game" in Reno, and sometimes the "winnings" are more spectacular.

JACKSON S. PERRY of Sausalito has been appointed a registered representative of York and Co., investment brokers. He will be headquartered at York's main office in the Russ Building, San Francisco. Along with other recent appointments, this brings the total of York representatives in six offices to 35. Of these, 11 are Marin County resdents, according to resident partner Jess J. France Jr. in San Rafael.

FRED ESPARZA and Tim Espinosa who have opened their new Northgate Barbershop in the Northgate Shopping Center have discarded the conventional white smocks in favor of red vests to match the chairs and the rest of the decor.

MOTORCRAFT. Craig Graessle of San Rafael is winner of a new Sunbeam Alpine through Marin Triumph, dealer for Rootes Motor Co. . . . General Motors unveiled its new 8V-71 Westerner diesel engine last week at the California Trucking Assn. truck, trailer and equipment show in San Francisco. Offered in 290 and 318-horsepower ratings. . . Chrysler has developed the Plymouth Super Stock 426-II engine for competitive events, available with several transmissions.

SPORTS CAR WINNER. Craig Graessle, 18, receives the keys to a $2,900 new Sunbeam Alpine convertible from Bud Oden, owner of Marin Triumph in San Rafael. Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Graessle, 376 Devon Drive, San Rafael, won the car in a drawing held by the Bay Area Dealers Assn. of Rootes Motor Co.

Crime Procedure Group Rejects

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate late yesterday firmly rejected an effort to revive a bill outlawing male prostitution—a proposal turned down four times by the Assembly criminal procedure committee.

The vote was 25-5 on a motion by Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) to strike the bill from the file.

Burns objected to the manner in which proponents were trying to by-pass the hostile Assembly committee.

They had amended the defeated Assembly bill into an unrelated measure which had passed the lower house and was before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

West Marin Sets Livestock Show

If you like barbecued chicken, livestock, parades with lots of bands, then Point Reyes Station is the place to be this weekend.

The 14th annual West Marin Junior Livestock Show will open at 10 a.m. Saturday with judging of animals and exhibits in the West Marin Community Center. The judging will continue most of the day.

At 9 p.m. Saturday, queen of the show, Judy Albini of Bodega, and her two princesses, Carol Buor of Olema and Mary Jordan of Point Reyes Station, will reign over the coronation ball. Hugh Turner of radio station KTIM will be master of ceremonies, and Dr. Frederick J. Saam, "honorary mayor of Point Reyes Station," will present the queen and her court.

At 10 a.m. Sunday there will be a riding demonstration by 4-H Club members in the lot next to Palace Market. At 11:30 a.m. busy chefs will start serving barbecued chicken. The chefs will keep working through most of the day.

At noon, the parade down the main street of Point Reyes Station will begin with Dr. Saam as grand marshal. A fashion show will be held at 1:30 p.m. and award ceremonies at 3:30 p.m.

With 10 bands and a long list of entries, the parade promises to be the best yet, according to parade wrangler William Hall Thompson.

FIVE NEGROES HELD FOR BRAWL DEATH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five Negroes have surrendered and been charged with homicide in the death of a young white soldier after a street brawl.

But authorities said it appears that the soldier, Pvt. Edward J. Betcher, 19, of Brooklyn, N.Y., died as a result of having been run over accidentally by the defendants' car after he had been knocked down in the scuffle early yesterday in Washington.

The five-four men and a woman—were arraigned at a special hearing at General Sessions Court late last night after turning themselves in at a precinct station. They entered no pleas and were ordered held without bond, their cases continued until Saturday.

Police identified them as Sheila M. Turner, 20; Floyd T. Smith, 22; Leon Dillard Jr., 22; Thomas A. Green, 22, and Gerald L. Jackson, 22—all of nearby Arlington, Va.

Betcher was pronounced dead at D.C. General Hospital at 2:30 a.m. yesterday shortly after he and two other Ft. Belvoir, Va., soldiers got into a fight with the four male defendants when their two cars stopped at an intersection.

Loch Lomond Fair For Care Set Tomorrow

The third annual Fair for Care, staged by children of the Loch Lomond area of San Rafael, will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow with a parade through residential streets.

Children, ages five to 13, will be dressed in costume, beating pots and pans and carrying signs to announce the fair. The fair will run from 10 a.m. to noon in front of the David Deutsch home at 39 Kinross Drive.

The fair will have everything from old books to fresh pop corn for sale. All money goes to Care.

Mrs. Taylor Smith of 59 Lochinvar Road is chief organizer.

'Pressures' Described In Warrant War Trial

UKIAH (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Erwin Carlstedt pictured for jurors yesterday the pressures which he said worked under the surface to isolate Mendocino County Sheriff Reno Bartolomie before the first volley was fired in the county's controversial "warrant war."

The trial continued today.

Carlstedt testified that former Ukiah Constable Wayne Guthrie and former fellow deputy Fred Roxson tried to get him to quit.

An earlier witness, former deputy sheriff Larry Patton, said one of the defendants, former deputy Robert Morton, and Bartolomie's unsuccessful opponent in the race for sheriff's office, Bill Birchfield, helped to spark his resignation.

Morton, Justice Court Judges Glenn Evans and Maurice Tindall, and red-haired divorcee Shon Salisbury are the four defendants on trial for conspiring to pervert and obstruct justice.

The four were involved in issuing more than 50 warrants against county and state officials when the officials—starting with Sheriff Bartolomie and reaching up as far as State Attorney General Stanley Mosk—refused to prosecute Mrs. Salisbury's ex-husband. The buxom redhead said he beat her up.

Board Holds Interview

Two more applicants for maintenance superintendent of the Corte Madera Sanitary District were interviewed last night by the district board. It is to set another meeting next week for further discussion of applicants.

We're breaking records . . .

June is bustin' out all over!

. . . and it looks as if we're going to send Lou and his wife to Hawaii and Zim and his Mrs. to Jamaica. While they're gone, we'll have a ball!

We've tried all kinds of incentives to induce our salesmen to work harder and make more sales. But, nothing has worked more spectacularly than the chance to get rid of Lou and Zim, even for a little while.

Of course, we're not naive enough to believe effort alone is responsible for breaking records. Our eagerness to accept the narrowest profit deals all year is a big help. So why stop now? We'll keep taking the "skinny ones" right through June 30. We don't want to falter in the stretch.

Giants Rest Today; Move To Milwaukee Tomorrow

National League pennant favorites Los Angeles and San Francisco won't meet again until Aug. 29, but with nearly two-thirds of their 1963 competition completed, they've settled virtually nothing except a lot of bills.

The second-place Giants beat the Dodgers 8-3 yesterday to win this week's set two games to one and take a 6-5 lead in their season series and extend their lead over Los Angeles to two games. The Giants trail league-leading St. Louis by a half-game as they go to Milwaukee for a series opening tomorrow. The Dodgers move to St. Louis after a Thursday off-day.

While the Giants-Dodgers record is close, however, the profit margin is apparently not.

An astonishing working day crowd of 41,384 paid its way into Candlestick Park Wednesday afternoon to see Juan Marichal win his first outing since he no-hit the Houston Colts Saturday.

The road-jamming throng brought attendance for the 11 Giant-Dodger games this year to 488,791—an average of nearly 45,000 and a total higher than some clubs have drawn in an entire home season.

An additional 1,638 servicemen pushed the total crowd to 43,022. A San Francisco police official called the pre-and post-game traffic rushes the worst he'd seen since Candlestick Park was opened in 1960. Many ticket-seekers were turned away.

Those who got in saw Marichal win his seventh straight decision though lasting only 7⅔ innings. He yielded six hits.

"I didn't have it," said Marichal after boosting his record to 11-3. He explained that his control was not too good, his fast ball was coming in high and he was afraid to use a curve or slider often because "I know they aren't too good this time."

But he wasn't worried about the supposed jinx which attacks a pitcher after he's thrown a no-hitter.

"I think about the hitter at home plate," he said. "I don't think about the no-hitter."

He didn't have long to think about a no-hitter yesterday because Jim Gilliam doubled with one out in the first inning.

Willie McCovey gave the Giants a quick 2-0 lead off starter and loser Don Drysdale, 8-8, when he slammed a first-inning home run off his favorite pitcher.

McCovey has nine home runs and 22 hits in 47 lifetime at-bats against the fireballing Dodger.

Willie Davis tied the game with a fourth-inning two-run homer but Harvey Kuenn, who'd singled ahead of McCovey's homer, singled home an unearned run in the bottom of the fourth.

The Giants chased Drysdale in the fifth. They loaded the bases on two walks sandwiched around Maury Wills' error at third base and scored once on Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly.

Cap Peterson's third single of the day drove home another run and drove out Drysdale. Jose Pagan singled in the third run of the frame.

Chuck Hiller, recovering his batting eye after a five-week layoff due to a broken hand, homered with one on in the eighth after Ron Fairly's home run and two subsequent singles had forced Marichal's departure.

Billy Pierce throttled the Dodgers the final 1⅓ innings.

How Can You Compare Marichal's Delivery With Any Other Hurler?

CONNOLLY

Who would you compare, "delivery-wise," with Juan "der-ful" Marichal, ace S.F. Giant righthanded pitcher?

That question was fired at Joe Orengo, presently Ford auto-sales tycoon and a former N.Y. Giant infielder.

"I believe," said Joe, trying hard to seem at ease, "he is a combination, 'delivery-wise,' to Dizzy Dean and Dazzy Vance."

As I was seated next to Orengo, the Palo Alto sports editor, through professional courtesy, asked me who I thought he looked like, delivery-wise.

"HE REMINDS me of a guy falling out of a second story window," I replied. "His arms go one way, his legs another and his head bobs, side to side, like a pendulum on a clock."

But because Marichal has the most unorthodox delivery in baseball, he is tremendously interesting.

"He puzzles all batters," Orengo explained. "He torments right-handers and crucifies left-hand hitters. They don't seem to know whether the pitch is coming from his hip pocket, his pants pocket or out of his spikes," Orengo hastened to explain.

"HE IS THE most unusual pitcher in baseball. When he finishes his pitch he almost falls down, in the direction of first base. But the batters can't seem to be able to follow the pitch."

Marichal gave a good demonstration yesterday afternoon why he ranks alongside of the top National League righthanders. He outpitched Don Drysdale so completely that Don was lifted for a pinch hitter, long before Marichal tired and was relieved in the eighth inning carrying a comfortable margin. Billy Pierce finished up for him and gets credit for the save but it was an Alvin Dark gesture that sent Marichal to an early shower.

Marichal now has 11 victories and 3 defeats so far this year. He beat the Dodgers 2 to 1 in S.F. on May 24 and 7 to 0 in L.A. on June 11, and again yesterday.

NOT MANY present day pitchers are any more effective under pressure than Marichal. He pitches his hardest, and his best, when the blue chips are down. That, he proved yesterday.

But Marichal's pitching wouldn't have been worth a plug nickel, if a certain guy named Willie McCovey wasn't around. Lovey Dovey gave Juan-derful a 2-0 lead in the very first inning when he clobbered one of Drysdale's hanging curves nine miles over the rightfield fence scoring Harvey Kuenn ahead of him. That blow cooled off Drysdale. It was an explosive shot and while it wasn't the deciding belt, it was a devastating blow to the Drysdale pride and probably had more to do with Don's falldown than anything else in the ball game.

ASIDE FROM the pitching of Marichal and the home run of McCovey was the sparkling performance of Chuck Hiller, who in the field excelled and at bat hit a comfortable 2-run homer that proved to be security runs in the final rundown.

Another youngster of promise who was injected into the game because of ailing Jimmy Davenport, was Cap Paterson. He whacked out four hits in five times at bat, fielded excellently and served notice to Davenport that he is ready, willing and eager to play regularly, or as often as he can.

For a pennant drive, yesterday's victory was real satisfying. It was secured with the great Willie Mays in the dugout and with Davenport on the hummer. Any club who can lose two guys like that and coast to victory, isn't to be denied the right to say they're heading for another pennant.

After watching a turnout of 43,022 of an afternoon, one begins to wonder who works in S.F. The turnout was the largest of the season, and brought a lot of confusion with it. For instance, over 100 cars, illegally parked, were towed away. What a headache to sip beer and eat peanuts and then find you have to dig up close to $20 to get transportation back home.

OUT BY A MILE—With his foot on the plate, the ball in his glove, Los Angeles Dodger catcher John Roseboro waits for the sliding Giants' shortstop Jose Pagan in the fourth inning of yesterday's game. As you can see, he was out "by a mile." (AP Wirephoto)

Rain May Mar U.S. Open Golf Tourney

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Bob Gajda of Bloomfield Hills, Mich. birdied three of the last five holes today and took the early first round lead in the 63rd U.S. Open Golf Championship with a 35-34—69 on the 6,850-yard par 35-35—70 course at the Country Club.

The temperature pushed toward the 80s and the Weather Bureau forecast possible afternoon thundershowers today as play began.

With the bulk of the field of 150 of the world's top players already concerned over the condition of the 6,850-yard, par 70 course at The Country Club, rain was something nobody wanted.

"That rough around those skinny fairways and little greens is tough enough," said Sam Snead, who is making his 23rd try for the open title he's never won. "If it rains you wouldn't be able to get through that rough with a shovel."

Arnold Palmer, fresh from a comeback $25,000 victory in the Thunderbird Classic in New York after a month's layoff, remained the 4-1 favorite to regain the championship he won in 1960. Defending champion Jack Nicklaus ranked right behind him.

Snead complained about the height of the rough—he estimated it at four inches—in an interview Wednesday.

"You know I hit one in there on that last hole and it's so nice and soft and fluffy and nice to walk in but it don't hold up that ball and it sits way down there.

"I took out a 5-iron and I swung from here to long gone and you know I took away so much ground I turned up a Chinaman and three gophers.

"Why, you know, you could easy bury a cat in there. All you gotta do is throw it in there and replace the divot and put a marker over it. I only missed that fairway by maybe two, three feet. A man should have a better shot at it when you're only off a few feet than when he's 100 feet off, now shouldn't he?

"You sure don't here or for any of these open courses. And this one here is tougher than usual because those greens are so small and those fairways aren't very wide.

"One thing about it, everybody's gotta play it and so everybody's gonna be miserable. But it's a funny thing, everybody cusses the Open but everybody can't wait to qualify for next year."

Dick Sikes Favored In NCAA Golf

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Medalist Dick Sikes of Arkansas remained a strong favorite for top honors as the third round of match play began today in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. golf championship.

Sikes easily eliminated Jim Rheim of Stanford 4 and 2 in yesterday's first round. Then he was forced to go 21 holes before posting a 1-up victory over James Colbert of Kansas State.

The original field of 64 was trimmed to 16 for today's third round. The survivors included defending champion Kermit Zarley of Houston.

Zarley downed James Seeley of Navy 2-up and Dave Philo of Florida State 4 and 3.

George Hixon of Oklahoma State, whose 3-under-par 67 in the first round of qualifying still stands as the low score in the tournament, ousted Joe Bush of Washington 6 and 5 and Tom Flory of Navy 1-up.

17-Year-Old Tops Field In Leftie Golf Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—America's left-handed golfers may have an uncrowned king this year.

The bylaws of the southpaw golfing clan forbid title honors to Joe Lopez, yet the 130-pounder from Socorro, N.M., heads all lists after the second round in the National Left-Handers' Golf tournament.

Lopez, the New Mexico high school champ among both southpaws and right-handers, is only 17 and rules say a golfer must be 18 to win the national championship — even though you're the best of the bunch.

Young Joe carded a 75-73—148 for the first two rounds of the 72-hole tournament to virtually wrap up the junior title. Terry Woods of Calhoun, Ga., in second place, has an 80-86—166 in his bid to defend his title.

Bob Wilson, a 37-year-old 200-pound lumberman from Lyle, Wash., heads the championship list with 75-75—150 after the second round.

Al Oerter Will Be Out Rest Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Oerter, world record holder for the discus throw, will not compete for the United States against Russia in their dual track meet in Moscow this summer.

Oerter, who never has lost to the Russians, was told by doctors yesterday not to compete again in 1963 because of a slipped disc.

Marin Gal In Tennis Upset

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The 63rd annual California State Tennis Tournament moved into its fourth round today, with top-seeded players in the 18-year-old division rolling along as expected.

Gary Rose, the 1962 champion and top-seeded among the boys, downed Gene Phillips of Millbrae, 6-1, 7-5, in third round play yesterday. In the girls' 18-year division, top-seeded Jean Danilovich of Jackson brushed aside Cathy Hurlbert of Sacramento, 6-1, 6-3.

An upset occurred in the girls' 14-year class, where top-seeded Robin Pritzker of Mill Valley was downed by Terry Hall, 6-2, 9-7.

N.Y. Mets Find A New Way To Lose

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

How does a team that has tried everything find a new way to lose? By messing up a triple play, that's how.

The New York Mets uncovered that new route in the fifth inning against the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

The Mets were leading 3-2. The Cards had runners at first and second. Leo Burke smashed a grounder to Charley Neal who stepped on third and fired to second to start a triple play. Rod Kanehl dropped the ball at second.

GRAND SLAM

Curt Flood walked and Bill White promptly hit a grand slam homer, the sixth of his career.

The eventual 9-4 victory kept the Cards a half game in front of the San Francisco Giants, who trounced the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-3 at Candlestick Park. The Dodgers fell 2½ games behind the Cards.

The Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs, both four games back, kept pace. The Cubs won 9-1 over Houston and the Reds beat the Philadelphia Phils 6-5 in 10 innings.

Pittsburgh pushed into a sixth place tie with Milwaukee in the other game on the card by beating the Braves 6-2.

In the American League, the first place New York Yankees edged Washington 3-2 for their sixth straight, and the second place Chicago White Sox kept up with a 12-4 hammering of Minnesota. In other games, Boston whipped Detroit 9-2, Cleveland edged Baltimore 5-4 in the opener of a doubleheader, then lost 6-2 and the Los Angeles Angels beat Kansas City 4-2 before losing the second game 4-3.

White's big homer came off Tracy Stallard and was his 12th of the year. It also extended his hitting streak to 12 games. George Altman ran his to 17 for the Cards with two singles. Ed Bauta got the victory in relief of Ron Taylor, who had to leave in the fifth when a Stallard pitch hit his thumb.

On the Mets side of the ledger, Al Moran hit a two-run single and catcher Norm Sherry drove in a run with a single that raised his batting average to .099. He was hitting .088.

Ernie Banks passed two landmarks for the Cubs. He smashed the 350th homer of his career, and drove in four runs to run his total to 1,003. Carl Warwick ruined Glen Hobbie's shutout with a sole homer in the sixth.

Leo Cardenas stroked a two-out single in the 10th to score Frank Robinson who walked, stole second and went to third on two more walks, in the Cincinnati victory. Don Demeter hit two homers for the Phils.

Pitcher Earl Francis hit a double and two singles, good for three RBIs, and got his third victory for the Pirates, with stout relief help from Joe Gibbon. Hank Aaron hit his 20th homer, tops in the majors, for the Braves. Mack Jones also homered for the Braves. Bob Sadowski, acquired in the Lew Burdette trade, made his major league debut for Milwaukee, but failed to last the fifth.

Sohner Treemen Lose Both Ends Of Doubleheader

Although scoring four runs before making an out in the first inning of the second game, Sohner Tree Service softballers fell victim to the big inning and dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the highly-touted Santa Rosa Athletic Club, 5-1 and 5-4, last night at Albert Park in San Rafael.

The Santa Rosa nine pushed across four runs in the fourth inning of the opener and then coasted to an easy victory behind the three-hit pitching of Herb Dower. Earl Beyer, Art Donati, and Dan George had the only Sohner safeties. Dave Allen and Jim McGlone each garnered two hits for the winners. Jay Leatherwood was the losing hurler.

Ron Jerome's three-run homer highlighted Sohner's first-inning uprising in the second game. Lou Perazzo blanked the visitors on one hit over the first five innings, but then the roof fell in.

Sohner will trek to Santa Rosa Saturday to battle Valley Furniture in a twin-bill.

Californians On Way To Another Record: Boating Accident Deaths

June 30 kicks off National Boating Safety Week. Don't take it lightly. It has suddenly become a seriously out-of-hand subject. George Skelton, of the Sacramento Special Service, United Press International, has done some researching. He comes up with surprising facts.

Boating used to be a low-hazard sport. Now, it seems that Californians are well on their way toward setting a new record—that of equaling or surpassing boating deaths and accidents set in 1962. That was the year 91 boaters died in this state, topping the previous year by 54. This is a lamentable commentary on boating safety observances, skills and courtesy habits.

GEORGE A. Askelund, who keeps track of boating statistics for the State Division of Small Craft Harbors, says, "From all evidence on hand, it looks like another bad year." And now that he has completed accident records for the first quarter of 1963, he warns, "More and more people are going out and using the waters. The new ones don't know about the dangers." He further makes the bleak observation that public boating information is showing little benefits. "Obviously, the message is not getting across."

Last year, these accidents totaled 401. Vessels involved were 523—an unpredicated increased over the 379 figure of 1961.

For obvious reasons, these boating disasters occurred mostly in ocean and tidal waters; 89 on ocean and 248 on tidal waterways. Highest percentage of deaths happened on salt water with Sotuhern California accounting for 25 of them. The worst single accident was off Newport Beach where nine were killed. Askelund reports the operator had NEVER piloted a boat on the ocean. He further compounded his inability by minimizing storm warnings.

TOMALES - BODEGA Bay area has much to offer the boater. However, he should be especially careful in this location. Thirteen persons died there last year. According to Askelund, special danger occurs there at low tide in the shallow southern part of Bodega Bay. Then, smooth water will quickly develop swells that turn into surf turbulence. A number of craft were capsized last year.

A survey found that there are 10,000 boat owners in Sacramento-San Joaquin river delta area. Forthwith, the state projected this figure into the 330,000 total boat owners in California. They estimated further, the biggest age group 81,000, was in the 40 to 4[illegible] range. Askelund explained "We found most of these were family men. They had saved enough money to buy a boat and liked to get away from it all."

But he admitted there could be a higher percentage of younger representatiton on inland lakes, where there is more water skiing.

ON THE subject of accidents again, boat operators were the direct blame for 28 of them. Causes were: Excessive speed overloading and not having a lookout when skiing.

Passengers who skied or swam, caused another 18. Faulty equipment, defective in inoperative machinery were other factors. Weather conditions and hazardous waters proved to be minimum contributors. Twenty-nine cabin cruisers were involved. Sailauxility craft and motorboats accounted for only 17 each. Only ONE involved a little canoe; which is considerably thought provoking.

So President Kennedy has proclaimed June 30-July 6 National Boating Safety Week. But Askelund doesn't really relish his role of pessimist when he's forced to remark, "It will take more than this to turn the boating accident tide in California."

SAYS COCKY CASSIUS CLAY:

'Ugly Bear (Liston) Is Scared Of Me'

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—There was excitement in Cassius Clay's voice and his eyes glowed like burning coals. He spoke almost as if he believed what he said.

"That big, ugly bear, Sonny Liston. He's scared to death of me. He's losing sleep thinking about me and what I'm going to do to him."

So intently did Cassius speak that the reporter's mind played tricks with him. He started to picture the 6-foot-1, 220-pound Liston cringing in a corner, his eyes bleary from lack of sleep, and wondering when Killer Clay was coming for him.

The reporter snapped out of his daydream when he heard again: "Ugly bear, total annihilation, tramp, greatest, best-est, handsomest, predict eight, he'll be in a worser fix if I predicted six . . ."

Cassius' monologue droned on.

Back to reality, the reporter asked Cassius to face the facts. He is only 21, he has lots of time, what is the rush and does he really and truly want to fight the devastating champion?

"Sure, I want that big, ugly bear but I gotta get my cut," said The Greatest yesterday on his triumphant return from London where he had stopped British champion Henry Cooper in five rounds as he said he would.

"I want a million and a half guarantee plus half of the TV money. My managers are working on the deal."

Cassius was advised that Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser, wanted to put the Clay-Liston fight in Philadelphia in September, providing Liston beats Floyd Patterson a cinch, says Liston in their July 22 return fight.

"That's all right with me," said Cassius quickly. "His home town will witness the annihilation. And then it's only a hop, skip and jump to New York, Pittsburgh and all the other nice cities nearby so people can come to see the fight."

Walt Silva Leads Country Club Bowlers With 264-859

Walt Silva, Viv Gray, and Shirley Posusney shared the honors in league action at Country Club Bowl last week.

Silva rolled the high game and the high series in the men's competition with a sparkling 264 effort in his 859 series that paced the 540 Scratch Trio League. Viv and Shirley tied for women's high game with 201 scores, and each bowled a high series. Viv hit 546 for three games in the gals' Sleepers Trio League, and Shirley had a four-game total of 719 in the Almost Trio League.

Carl Adelhardt came in first and second in the Handicap Doubles Tournament, teaming with Gary Johnson to grab first and with Jim Payne for second. He and Johnson grossed 1371 on a series of 1269 and a 102 handicap. Payne and Adelhardt were close with 1361. Third place went to Gene Reiman and Bob Stumm with 1348.

Annual Baseball School Will Be In San Rafael Saturday

The 18th annual San Francisco Examiner baseball school will again visit San Rafael's Albert Field this year, Saturday.

Headed by former major league shortstop and manager Eddie Joost, the staff will give instruction to boys 13 years of age and younger from 10 a.m. until noon. At 2 p.m., tryouts will begin for the Northern California All-Star team, which will play a group of San Francisco all-stars July 7. Two boys will be picked from that game to compete in the annual contest in Yankee Stadium, New York, between the U.S. All-Stars and the New York All-Stars.

Besides Joost, the staff includes Joe Sprinz, former catcher for the old San Francisco Seals; ex-Seal pitcher Con Dempsey, and the longtime coach at Poly High School in San Francisco, Milt Axt.

Ray Leach Wins M.V. Tourney

Ray Leach, a 13-year-old linkster from Novato, won medalist honors at the Mill Valley City and Jaycee Golf Tournament at the Mill Valley golf course Tuesday.

Leach shot a sparkling one-under-par 66 to edge Barry Hachmyer, 16, also of Novato, for medalist honors. Hachmyer won the 16 and 17 age class with a 68. Leach won the 12 and 13 division.

Bill O'Keefe, Jaycee golf chairman, announced that Ray and Barry have qualified for the Northern California State Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament which will be held at Aptos Beach Country Club in Santa Cruz on June 23, 24 and 25.

At the Santa Cruz tourney, the boys will have a chance to qualify for the International Jaycee Junior Golf Tourney which will be held later in Texas.

Age group winners and runners-up were:

12-13—Ray Leach, 66; Rick Timmer of San Rafael, 78.

14-15—Rick Paterson of Mill Valley and Brock Bruderer of Tiburon tied with 76. Rick won in a sudden death playoff.

16-17—Barry Hachmyer, 68; Rick Webb of Kentfield, 70.

Ron Blum Has A Big Week; Raises Bat Mark 32 Points

Former Marin Catholic and College of Marin star Ron Blum of Larkspur stood out last week among Marin's professional baseball players.

Blum, who got off to a slow start with St. Cloud, Minn., of the class A Northern League, raised his batting average 32 points in the last week reported by Player Periscope of Novato by rapping nine hits in 27 times at bat. Ron counted two triples among his safeties as he scored four runs, batted in four more, and brought his average up to .240.

Neal Austinson of San Anselmo, playing with the Giants' Decatur, Ill., club of the class A Midwest League, batted only .241 last week, but with his seven hits he knocked in nine runs. Austinson whacked two home runs and three doubles and scored eight runs as he raised his average five points to .222.

John Boccabella of San Anselmo, like Blum a graduate of Marin Catholic, and a member of the Chicago Cubs chain, played his first week of pro ball last week with the Pocatello, Idaho, team of the Class A Pioneer League. Boccabella went hitless in three trips to the plate.

Still another former Marin Catholic Wildcat, Doug Wilson of the Giants' struggling Fresno farm club in the class A California League, saw no action last week, and his average remained at .205. Wilson has 18 hits in 88 at bats, has scored 12 runs and driven in 10.

A Marin pitcher in organized baseball, ex-Drake Pirate Nino Geminiani, hurled but three innings last week for Detroit's Jamestown, N.Y. team, and still received two decisions. He won one, lost the other, and now has a record of 1-2. Control difficulties have plagued Nino this season, clouding his fine strikeout mark. In 23 innings, he has fanned 22, but 25 walks and 23 hits have resulted in an earned run average of 5.72.

There Is Fast Fishing At Clear Lake For All You Vacationers

STEVENS

What furnishes the greatest thrill? Is it the first kiss, the first baby or the first trout? Maybe Mrs. Clifford Gomes can venture an opinion. She caught a 20-inch cutthroat trout in Hope Valley by the bridge, this week. Called me to learn where it could be mounted as proof of her unquestionable superiority as a catcher of fish in the Gomes clan.

Perhaps I should add that Mrs. Gomes was the only one who did catch a trout in the party, which indicates not-too-hot trouting in that area.

I just had a phone call asking if it would be worth while to spend a few days at Clear Lake—with fishing as the main objective. I am happy to report chances for some fast fishing in the lake are super. I called Don Smith of Don's Bait and Tackle at the Highlands to get the lowdown. First, I learned that the lake is—and has been for the past week—calm, the air hot and windless, and the fishing for crappies and blue gills excellent. The blue cats are running rampant — nice ones, 5 and 6-pounders, and some black bass are being caught by the guys and gals who know how.

It's no wonder that there is no wind in that Clear Lake area . . . none left—we are getting it all. James Whitcomb Riley would never write "what is so rare as a day in June—" etc., if he was in the Bay regions so far this June.

In past years this would be the time when the late evening trolling out of Crockett, Rodeo and Point San Pablo would be fast and furious, but not this year. Oh, it isn't dead. Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported Johnny Sivera and the Happy Days boat netted 10 stripers to 13 pounds Monday night, but that only averaged out at one fish per rod. Before any real glowing reports can be expected from the upper San Pablo area, a la trolling or with bait, the persistent high winds will have to slacken.

But—trollinig is paying off in the Racoon Strait at present. From Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland I learned that Hines Steffen collected himself a nice limit of stripers to 20 pounds on Monday morning, and the comparatively few boats working that region all did very good.

Trolling for salmon, east and southeast of the Farralones continues hot. I note the Sea Horse, on Monday, came to port with 22 nice salmon to 19 pounds; the Lucky Day had 23 to 20 pounds the same day.

If its horseneck or cockle clams that appeal, as well as California's prized mollusk, the abalone, you're in luck. Wonderful minus tides every morning from tomorrow through the weekend and on Monday, too.

So, it's not hopeless, you know. If the wind dies down, all fishing on all fronts will improve.

Mickey Wright Vs. The Field

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—It was Mickey Wright against the field today as the undisputed queen of golf led 36 pros and 74 amateurs into the opening round of the 34th Women's Western Open at Maple Bluff Country Club.

Miss Wright, the top money winner of the women's pro circuit since 1961, launched defense of her Western Open crown while seeking her seventh tournament triumph of the year. She has won more than $11,000 on the tour.

Group Doesn't Seem To Like School Reorganization

The pecking order for who sees first the re-organization plan for North Marin school districts was lined up last night, and members of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization said they didn't like it.

Next week the superintendents of the four districts involved, San Rafael, Dixie, San Jose and Novato, will meet privately with Edward Anderson of Booz-Allen and Hamilton, who will discuss with them his recommendations.

Next the four school boards will be called together for the first public discussion of the plan.

"We put our money in the pot," said Mrs. Betty Wallace, committee member. "I get the feeling I would not be invited."

"He knows; you know; I know the politics in this area are rampant," said Earl Marshall, chairman.

"The boards asked if they could follow through with this procedure," said Edwin L. Blackmore, county coordinator for rural schools. "If the first public meeting were an augmented committee it would destroy more than it would build." The augmented committee includes both the county group and school board members.

The committee got from Anderson an inkling of what his report will contain.

"I spent a good deal of time making a case for one unified district," said Anderson. "I gave it up.

"The financial problems are the least. The desire for strong local control is the biggest factor." Anderson said the four districts are similar in class loads and tax structure.

"I didn't talk to one person in San Rafael who didn't think Dixie should be a part of San Rafael," said Anderson. "The districts have a highly academically oriented program."

Anderson said his plan will bring all districts to the top level of education and will be realistic in relation to funds available. "It's not good to mislead the people and make them think money is there when it isn't," he said.

"I hear you were given a rough time in the Burdell district," said Mrs. Short.

"In Burdell we had no success," replied Anderson. "But there's a good possibilty a subdivider will go in there soon. When he does, I think he'll immediately ask to be annexed to Novato."

Anderson termed Novato "a rather dynamic little community struggling for its identity."

The cheapest education could be provided by unifying into one district, Anderson said. "We won't base it on the least expensive way," he said.

The committee set a tentative meeting July 17 to discuss ways to inform the public of what is involved in a proposed unification of the Tamalpais High School District with elementary districts within it.

Board Expresses Enthusiasm As $235,000 Library Budget Approved

Marin County supervisors expressed enthusiasm yesterday for an increased county library budget to provide better services.

They approved without hesitation a proposed $235,000 library budget, about $10,000 more than recommended by the county administrator and $25,000 more than the current budget.

"I have never been extravagant in my demands," said Librarian Virginia Keating, explaining the "urgent need now" for a children's librarian and extra help for cataloguing books.

"I've never heard of a library this size that didn't have a children's librarian," commented Supervisor Peter Behr. "I'm confident it is something long overdue."

Supervisor William A. Gnoss commented it is far better for children to read books than to "watch television, with its shooting and all that."

Mrs. Keating said the children's librarian would set up a summer reading program, work with school districts in selection of books, and establish an expanded series of story hours.

Included in the budget was an extra $3,000 for new books and book repairs, over current budget of $28,000.

County Auditor Michael Mitchell said the increasd budget may result in about a quarter-cent increase in the county library district tax. He had previously estimated the 14-cent tax would go up a half cent because of reduction in revenue from the school library program, from which Dixie and Novato school districts withdrew.

His estimate of the general property tax dropped a half-cent yesterday after the board completed its preliminary look at eight budgets. Mitchell's estimate of the tax at present is $2.565 per $100 assessed valuation. The slight change, he said, is due to reduction in building fund budgets and $5,000 in increased revenue from the City of Novato for engineering services.

A County Health Department budget of $360,000 was approved by the board, with approval of an administrative assistant for Director Carolyn B. Albrecht. Dr. Albrecht said increased programs in the department have created the need for administration of services and coordination of clerical work.

In addition to approval of a $68,000 budget for the county agricultural commissioner, the board gave tentative approval to Commissioner Richard T. Straw's request for $4,000 in the building fund for construction of a poison storage room at the proposed county public works equipment yard at Ignacio.

Credit Union Board Members Selected

Five San Rafael city employees were elected last night to the board of directors of the San Rafael Federal Credit Union. Officers will be elected at a meeting June 27 at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Directors are: Morrison Green, asst. chief building inspector; Kenneth Mazza, fire department inspector; Edith Weldon, meter enforcement officer for the police department; Andrew Thomas, chief building inspector, and Gertrude Crocker, secretary for the parks and recreation department.

Separate Personnel Unit Debated

Personnel practices and the morale among county employees have improved, and there is no need to set up a separate county personnel department, opponents of a separate department said today on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

But proponents of the plan, which would remove control of personnel from County Administrator Alan Bruce, said the most efficient management comes with a separate personnel department.

Speaking for the separation were Edgar Lindner, chairman of the county offices committee of the 1962 Grand Jury, and George Goodfellow, a member of the committee.

Opposing the change were Julius H. Selinger, chairman of the county personnel commission, and Robert Heyer, chairman of the Marin County Council for Civic Affairs.

"We have only one ax to grind," said Heyer. "We want to be sure the county does not take a step backward."

The 1962 Grand Jury recommended the separation, but a committee of the 1963 Grand Jury asked the supervisors to hold up action while it makes a study. Supervisors last month voted 4-1 to make the change but have not adopted an ordinance to make the change effective.

"The (1962) report said there was low morale," said Heyer. "It was out of date by the time it was published."

After the report, a personnel policy was adopted by the supervisors.

"The county does have personnel procedures now," said Lindner. "What counts is how they're carried out. The most efficient and best results come when personnel is separate from patronage and politics."

The study of personnel is just as technical as the study of engineering."

"The strategy seems to be to reduce the county administrator's job to a hollow shell by degrees," said Heyer. "First personnel, then purchasing, then nothing left but an office boy."

Bruce now heads the personnel department assisted by Robert D. Elliott, assistant personnel director.

"The personnel statement has become our Bible," said Selinger. "I feel we're acting efficiently under it. I don't think a change is needed.

"The 1962 jury did an outstanding job and cured the situation," he added.

"A common complaint last year was the personnel problems," said Goodfellow. "Now the 1963 Grand Jury says there is no problem. Possibly it has been solved. I still feel a more efficient department could be run separately."

Selinger, asked if he thought the county administrator's position should be abolished said: "I take no position. That's for the supervisors and people to decide."

Lot Split Approved By Corte Madera Unit

Approval to redivide four lots in Madera Park into two lots of 12,000 and 18,000 square feet was granted to Harry H. Johnson of Mill Valley last night by the Corte Madera Board of Adjustment.

The zoning ordinance calls for lots in the area to be of 20,000 square feet apiece but Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow reported the town council had urged the lot split be granted because the new lots would be "larger than others in the area."

Assembly Dumps Bill On Tidelands Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly has rejected an effort to require Long Beach to give the state a detailed accounting of how it spends its half of tidelands oil revenue shared with the state.

The Committee on Manufacturing, Oil and Mining Industry, rejected the proposal by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (R-Redwood City) yesterday. The committee is headed by Assemblyman Joseph Kennick (D-Long Beach).

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Authentic LuauWill Be Held At Marist Seminary Sunday

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

More than 50 Hawaiians are flying in from the islands to put on an authentic luau at St. Peter Chanel Seminary on Grand Avenue in San Rafael Sunday. The luau proceeds will be used for the training and education of young men for the Catholic priesthood in the Marist congregation. The Hawaiians, members of the Marist Fathers' Star of the Sea Parish in Honolulu, are coming here at their own expense.

The event will get underway at 10 a.m. with the traditional preparation and pit cooking of the pigs. The Hawaiians are bringing the lava rocks, which they will make red hot from the Keawe wood, put them in and around the pigs, surround those with palm fronds and ti leaves, and cover them with earth. The meat is partly roasted and steamed. Later on in the afternoon, the pigs roasted brown and tender, are removed from the imu or pit. All the trimmings of a genuine Hawaiian luau feast, including many tropical foods and delicacies will be served.

Each guest will be given a lei of Vanda orchids upon arrival. Guests can enjoy the beautiful grounds for picnicking, cool off with a swim in the outdoor Olympic pool and take time out for the cocktail hour before the feast is served.

A program of Hawaiian entertainment will be provided. Guests will hear the songs of Hawaii, joining in the singing to the accompaniment of guitars and ukuleles. Graceful young women bedecked with flowers of the Isle of Paradise, will dance the hula. Starting at 7 p.m. there will be dancing for all.

The committee includes Judge and Mrs. Harold Haley, Dr. and Mrs. Rafael Dufficy Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Louis Geissberger, Messrs. and Mesdames Eugene O'Connor, Anthony Costello, Charles Owen, T. N. Kennedy, Fred Horre, George Brown, Claude St. Martin, Arnold Vasa, Mrs. Ray Hamilton and Bill Brannan.

Tickets for the luau can be bought at the office of St. Peter Chanel Seminary or by phoning the Marist Fathers.

MR. AND MRS. ERIC BELLINGALL of the Belvedere Lagoon and their two daughters, Leigh and Christie, were in Santa Barbara for several days. They were joined by Los Angeles friends, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ruggles. The Bellingalls and the girls leave tomorrow for Lake Shasta and several days of water skiing. They will stay at Bridge Bay Resort.

MRS. WILLIAM (Sis) WORRALL and Mrs. Charles (Jane) Banks entertained Sunday afternoon to celebrate the opening of their new shop, Le Clef d'Or on Fifth Avenue in San Rafael. The shop will specialize in interior design and antiques will be sold.

Among Marinites attending the cocktail party were Capt. and Mrs. John G. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Millen Griffith, the Carl Carlsons, the Houston Levers, Mr. and Mrs. Roane Sias, Mrs. Nancy Frank of Tiburon, Messrs. and Mesdames Ted Lilienthal, Ross Pigna, and Amos Densmore

FOGHURST, home of Judge and Mrs. Richard M. Sims Jr. in Rolling Hills, Tiburon, was the setting for a tea yesterday honoring the past president of St. Stephens Guild.

The Guild was founded in 1950 with Mrs. James Michael as first president. Other past presidents were the late Mrs. Frederic Palmer (Ada Cline Palmer), Mesdames C. M. Kretchmer, Arthur Collbran, George Stephens, Robert Watkins, Robert Bagnall, Ronald Simpson, John Heefer, Edwin G. Weed, John H. Flint and Walter Simi.

Mrs. William Hayes Ballard of Tiburon, a harpist played during the afternoon. Mrs. Ballard had an interesting concert career as a member of the Hazel Shertzinger Harp Quintet in Southern California. She was a member of the guild's board of directors and for the past two years has been membership chairman.

MRS. WINSTON J. JONES of Ross left to join her husband in Miami, Florida where they spent a week at the Key Biscayne on Biscayne Bay. From there they went to Nassau for a week's stay and came back by way of New Orleans and Dallas.

Trigere Showing For Fall

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Tiny waistlines, broadbeamed hips of almost antebellum proportions, and long pegged skirts made romantic old-fashioned girls out of some of Pauline Trigere's modern models.

YET AT THE preview of her collection, the French-American designer turned out to be as reversible in design mood as some of her tweed wool coats. Interspersed with those antique girls was the stereotype of the modern femme fatale — sleek, bare-shouldered and twinkling with crystals.

SMILING AS SMUGLY as cats, the models emerged on the stage clutching shut their full-cut coats. Then they flung them back to reveal a commodious bag of Trigere-designed tricks.

Beyond a wide-necked jacket, for example, was a sable drawstring blouse. Inside a voluminous satin cape was a generous puddle of black mink. When the lapels of another wide demure black dinner coat flopped back, a border of boulder-sized rhinestones blinked in the lining edges.

THOSE SAME giant stones twinkled on usually sportive tweed coats.

Indeed, jewels like something Faberge might have whipped up were stitched onto nearly everything. Even lame was not considered opulent enough without a few sparkling rocks sprinkled here and there.

Birthday Party Is Given As Surprise

A surprise birthday party was successfully worked out by his wife Tuesday night for James Ralph Betts Jr. of Sausalito.

The young couple went to the home of Mrs. Betts's parents, the Leonard E. Blakelys of Sausalito, for the opening of presents. When they returned to their home to prepare to go out to dinner with another couple, guests had gathered for the party.

They were Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Braden, Charles Prchal David Henriod, Guy Valenti, Robert Granthum, Charles Waldren, Joseph Stewart Jr., Pat Farrell and Robert Sievers; the Misses Sherie Sievers, Judy Erskine and Sue Blakely and Messrs. Gary Wold, Trulen Karnes and Robert Joy.

Back To Stark Modern? Maybe

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fashions in home furnishings like fashions in women's clothes run in cycles and the next major change in decorating could well be "right back to stark modern," says the new president of the American Institute of Interior Designers.

Mary E. Dunn hopes however her look into the future of home decor may have some errors in it.

"We're at the peak of the revival of traditional furnishings. We might go right back to stark modern. But to me, the ideal is a combination of things we love from the past combined with the functional of the present.

"I think in terms of modern lighting, combined with modern paintings, and some fine old furnishings. I have nothing against period furniture being copied either."

"Pure traditional is just too old hat," said Miss Dunn. "I believe in the old and new combined subtly. I don't like one cut off from the other.

"Certainly home furnishings run in cycles of style as fashion does. Keep a dress around long enough and it comes back in style."

INSTALLED AT LUNCHEON

A poolside luncheon and meeting at the home of Mrs. Elaine Erlange in Ross Tuesday was the occasion for installation of the new officers of the Marin County Humane Society Auxiliary. Leading the group through the year will be, from left, Mesdames Jack Bataiff, treasurer; Arne Kionig, president; Henry Holzberg, vice president and E. S. Bodine, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Y. C. McGee is the recording secretary.

A CALIFORNIA DESIGN

A filmy flamenco pink chiffon evening dress was one of the new fall costumes that took the spotlight at a special preview of Jean Louis' collection in New York. The California designer created a diagonal twist in the bodice, which is accented by a band and bow of velvet. (UPI photo)

FOOD FORECAST

Fresh Fruit, Vegetables Will Ease Menu Planning

During July menu-planning will be easy, since increasing supplies of a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables will be available to western food shoppers, the United States Department of Agriculture reports.

Turkeys: USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports turkey supplies will be almost as large as they were last year. In 1962 California, the nation's top producer, raised nearly 18 million birds.

Summer Vegetables: In western markets there will be abundant supplies of green beans, beets, carrots, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, leafy greens, lettuce, green and dry onions, green peppers, potatoes, radishes, soft squash and tomatoes.

Fresh Peaches: The western peach crop might be slightly smaller this year, according to official estimates. Even so, supplies are expected to be abundant.

Peanut Butter: AMS expects the 1963 peanut crop to exceed consumer requirements.

Watermelons: Acreage planted in California is about the same as last year's large acreage, which means that there will be plenty of watermelons on hand.

Milk and Dairy Products: Milk production will continue at a high level.

Vegetable Fats and Oils: Stocks of edible vegetable oils, including finished products, are now 700 million pounds above normal, but only slightly higher than last year. Prospects are that supplies will continue to exceed consumer needs.

In early July western food shoppers will find plentiful supplies of apricots on hand.

In good volume will be red raspberries, boysenberries, olallieberries and cantaloupes. Nectarines and plums are expected to be abundant, and, by month's end, larger supplies of Thompson Seedless grapes will begin to arrive. New crop sweet potatoes are expected to put in an appearance.

According to estimates, broiler production should be up about 6 percent, but eggs probably will not be as plentiful as they were in the late spring.

Western beef markets, however, are likely to be well above year-ago levels through July, so it appears that beef will be in good supply.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

"What have you been putting in your hamburger, lately? . . . My meatballs seem to have more bounce."

Bedecked Bathroom Becomes The Latest Status Symbol

The swimming pool is giving way to the bedecked bathroom as the nation's latest status symbol.

For those who have the money and the inclination, designers have come up with spacious showers with sliding glass doors, delicately tinted tiles and an endless vista of glass and brass.

Some of the refurbished bathrooms have expanded the usual narrow, neck-high window to a broad sweep of glass looking out into a yard or terrace—a feature greatly in keeping with the trend toward more outdoor living.

Gone are the white porcelain washbowls and tubs. In their stead are ones of misty lilac, dusty rose, and sea spray green.

The shape of the washbowls has not escaped change either. Manufacturers are turning them out in circles, ovals, rectangles and squares.

In the more elegant bathrooms, the inside of the washbowl is stenciled with a gold design.

Other features include built-in soap ledges tucked underneath the inner rim of the washbowl. The ledges are just above the water line. The soap remains in this "dry dock" even when the bowl is filled.

Not so long ago, most of the elaborate fixtures seen in new homes had to be custom made. But manufacturers of bathroom equipment now are offering them as part of their regular stock. (UPI)

Loma Verde P-TA President Active In Volunteer Groups

Loma Verde Parent-Teacher Assn. has elected Mrs. Floyd D. Fisher to serve as president for the 1963-64 year.

Mrs. Fisher and her husband, Floyd, and two children Rebecca Ann, 10 and Thomas Dale, 7, came to Marin two years ago from Michigan.

MRS. FLOYD FISHER

MRS. FISHER HAS not held an office in the P-TA here, but in Michigan she was active in the League of Women Voters as voters' service chairman, and also served with a Brownie troop and as a room mother. Since coming to Marin she has joined the Jolly Rogers Chapter of Children's Home Society.

Carmen's husband is regional manager for the Lee L. Woodard Sons, Inc. in San Francisco and she said she enjoys helping him decorate the showrooms in Jackson Square. Her main hobby is golf.

THE NEW PRESIDENT said the organization's purpose is "to develop between educator and the public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantage in physical, mental, social and spiritual education and to secure adequate laws for care and protection of children and youth."

One of the main projects for Loma Verde P-TA this year will be a safety program. Their fund raising project is the annual carnival in the fall.

OFFICERS TO serve with Mrs. Fisher for the school year are Mesdames Robert Schroeder, parliamentarian; Gordon Walker, first vice president; Annie Lea Comer, second vice president; Gordon Berg, secretary; Willis Spitzer, treasurer; Gene Taylor, historian; and Mr. Edward D. Lorenzini, auditor.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN are Mesdames Roger Schow, founders day; Donald Mason, health and safety; Chaylon Brown, hospitality; Herbert Welp, magazine; Chester Lowney, membership; Walker, program; John Frederick, publicity; F. Milton Garfield, recreation; John Ahlers, room representative; Jerry Smith, telephone, and Joseph De Maestri and Lawrence Witter, ways and means.

Family Frolic

A fun and frolic day for the family served to celebrate Father's Day for a group of Mill Valley families on Sunday at Boyle Park when the Old Mill Tavern baseball team scheduled an unorthodox baseball game against their wives. Umpire Bobo Langdon made up the rules as the game went along—after an hour of play he called "curfew" at noon and the teams together with the spectators adjourned to have picnic lunch. The group hopes to make the event an annual one on Fathers Day.

Parish Dinner Will Mark An Anniversary In Glenwood

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Beaumont will be the honor guests on their first anniversary with the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood at an 8 o'clock parish dinner on Saturday evening at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club in Marin Bay.

Rev. Beaumont, who was with a British overseas banking firm for 14 years before entering the ministry, was formerly vicar of the Church of St. Augustine, an Episcopal Mission in Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Paterson Jr. will host a cocktail party from 6 to 7 p.m., preceding the dinner at their home on Allensby Lane, Loch Lomond. Mr. Paterson is senior warden at the Church of the Redeemer.

Green Leopard

Have you ever seen a green leopard? At least one imaginative furrier is helping nature out by dyeing the skins a grassy hue before shaping them into a coat. Sleeveless, collarless and knee length, the coat is worn over black long sleeved jersey.

Fur Soled

Fake furs have gotten to the soles of a woman's wardrobe, her shoes. Besides the usual leopard, spotted Dalmatian, zebra and pony have been shaped into flatties, sandals and boots. Zaniest among the boots are crazy quilt ones made up of a patchwork of contrasting fur types.

Busy Washer

The average automatic washer is in use 600 times per year, or about 400 hours of operation.

A BRILLIANT CHOICE of accent and area rugs is adding to the popularity of the exposed oak floor. In a drafty castle, they'd be wall tapestries. In today's polished living they unify furniture groups or form conversational islands. In a large room the effect is stately, and in a small room both practical and dramatic. Rugs come room-sized, hearth-sized, patterned, plushly solid, imported, domestic, in a wealth of choice. The area rug can be rotated and in many cases is reversible.

Oak Floors Need Quick Daily Care

Today's homemaker is not so hidebound and committed to routine that Monday is strictly washday, Tuesday's for ironing and spring's for housecleaning. Most maintenance in today's homes can be done more casually.

Since floors cover the entire area of a house, however, and take more of a beating than any other part, they do merit a good share of attention, especially in households with lively youngsters who have a genius for tracking in dirt.

THE EASIEST FLOOR arrangement to care for, according to many home maintenance specialists, is one in high favor today—the combination of polished oak floors and area rugs.

To look their best at all times oak floors need simple care. In busy households they should be swept with a dry dust mop or vacuumed daily.

This care is important, for it prevents dirt and dust from being ground into the finish.

TWO OR THREE times a year—the frequency depending upon the amount of traffic the floors receive—they should be cleaned and waxed. Don't scrub them with soap and water. That's horse-and-buggy style treatment. Use a liquid wax base cleaner. Water, particularly if used often, may raise the grain of the wood and cause a rough surface.

WAX BASE CLEANER removes old soiled wax, dirt and ordinary spots and leaves a thin wax film. A coat of paste wax or liquid rubbing wax is recommended over it. Some cleaners, however, have an extra-heavy wax content, eliminating need for a separate application of wax. Either type is easy to apply with a soft cloth or a long-handled applicator. Just follow the directions on the container.

CARE OF AREA rugs is simple, too. Just send them to the cleaners. Or if you have a shampoo machine, you can do the job yourself.

Young Mothers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American women tend to have had their last child by the time they are 28, the Population Reference Bureau reports. By 34, with her youngest in school, the mother's full-time child-tending chores are behind her. "After her intense activity with a lively brood of youngsters, she is likely to be bored and want something to do during most of the 40 remaining years of life she can expect," the Bureau noted.

RAFAEL CARPETS SAYS

Just listen to the Ooh's and Aah's when your friends see your new "ELEGANCE" carpeting by Royalweve!

Half the fun of "Elegance" is the look of envy in your friends' eyes when they see it! This is deep, lush, cobblestone textured carpeting that adds vibrant warmth and a classic theme to every room. "Elegance" truly lives up to its name—and keeps right on doing so year after lovely year. The secret's in the construction: 100% DuPont continuous filament nylon face yarns—by far the most durable fibers ever put into a carpet.

In tests conducted by the Good Housekeeping Institute, "Elegance" withstood more punishment than your growing family could possibly give it in 10 years, yet retained its original beauty. Vulcanized/"Cushion-Weld" backing—exclusively Royalweve—adds greater stability and longer life, which is why the mill guarantees it. Summertime—or wintertime—the living is easier with "Elegance." Dirt refuses to cling and ordinary soil comes out in seconds with only household detergent and a sponge. Mildew and moth-damage is a thing of the past with this nylon.

If you're a woman of discriminating taste (and we know you are), you'll particularly love "Elegance's" magnificent color selection—15 decorator shades to add glorious warmth to any room. Come in today and let us show you how to turn your friends *green with envy (*or any of the other 14 envy-inspiring colors) without wilting your wallet.

If you need a carpeting that never goes out of style, look at Embassy. This is luscious, dense carpeting that seems to thrive on wear. Every member of the family will thank "Embassy's" 100% DuPont continuous filament nylon face yarn construction—especially you,—'cause it takes punishment like a medieval martyr, from footsteps, to footprints. Smash it down—it springs right back. Spills and ordinary soil wipe up in seconds with common household detergent and a sponge. It's backed by the manufacturer and carries the Good Housekeeping Consumer's Guaranty Seal. Pacifist Slogans Can Lead To Another Pearl Harbor

"Why should the peace and quiet of the air be ruined by these endless military maneuvers?

"They call it defense, but what a price to pay for a false sense of security which is decidedly questionable."

That's what a reader wrote to the I-J one day recently, describing herself as "very much disturbed by the constant drone and zooming of planes from Hamilton Field."

Elsewhere on this page today, there appears a letter from another I-J reader commenting on the aforesaid complaint.

We commend it to the complainant.

Beyond this, we would reflect a bit on pacificism. We have a growing pacifist chorus in the nation today.

They have developed a kind of jingoism in reverse which has produced such catchy phrases as "Better Red Than Dead," "Peace Is Our Only Shelter," etc.

There is nothing wrong, of course, with pacificism. Every man must sincerely hope and pray for peace. We all must work for peace.

But we must do it realistically.

Certainly in dealing with the Communists dedicated to world domination by force, the first requisite for maintaining peace is to be so strong that would-be attackers are deterred from launching aggression.

The U.S.A. disarmed in the interests of peace in the 1920s and 1930s, and thereafter paid a terrible price for the disarmament starting Dec. 7, 1941.

If the U.S.A. ever were to get caught in another Pearl Harbor surprise attack —with our defenses down—we will not have the opportunity to slowly rebuild and win ultimate victory. We will instead be defeated forthwith and subjected to loss of our traditional freedoms.

In the pre-World War II enthusiasm for disarmament Herbert Hoover once said something to the effect that carrying a gun invites attack. If you don't carry a gun, you don't carry a chip on your shoulder; defenseless "good citizens" don't get jumped on.

But Pearl Harbor proved the fallacy of that view.

The heavy taxes we pay for defense costs and the annoyance of jet noise and sonic booms are small price for the best defense that our best military and civilian minds can contrive for our country.

If we were to deal in slogans, we would choose:

"Prepare for the worst; work and pray for the best."

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

FRUSTRATED STUDENT BURNS DOWN SCHOOL

Hating one teacher and being angry at another were the reasons a 13-year-old girl gave for burning down a school.

Boasting about having started the blaze led to her arrest two days after the incident took place.

She admitted to police that she entered the building by breaking a window, and then set fire to a pile of papers.

Despite questioning, she gave no further explanation of her behavior or why she was mad at the teachers. Authorities said she was a "troubled child," morose and uncommunicative.

Persons driven by hatred often go to fantastic extremes to give vent to their bitterness. In addition to all the harm they inflict on others, they do much to destroy themselves.

On the other hand, those motivated by love of God and man accomplish amazing good.

Moreover, in striving to enrich the lives of others, they automatically enrich their own.

"He who loves his brother abides in the light."

(1 John 2:10)

Let me so grow in love for others, O Jesus, that there will be no room for resentment in my heart.

BACKSTAIRS AT WHITE HOUSE

JFK Will Get To Europe Quicker Than Jefferson Came To Capitol

By MERRIAM SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When Thomas Jefferson traveled by stagecoach from Philadelphia to Washington and the White House in 1800, the trip took six jolting days.

Flying to Europe next weekend, President Kennedy will cover about 3,000 miles by jet plane in around six smooth-gliding hours.

While the custom of Presidents traveling abroad is relatively recent except for war-related excursions of Presidents Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, it has been only a few years when an American chief executive spent as much as a week when he visited a foreign capital.

And until the time of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, presidents seldom tackled more than one country per foreign excursion. It was Eisenhower who introduced the idea of ramming several countries into one itinerary.

WITH THE CURRENT president, jets have become speedier and foreign itineraries more telescoped. Now it is unusual for Kennedy to spend more than two nights in any foreign capital.

This weekend he will set out across the Atlantic in his Air Force fan-jet for West Germany, Ireland, Great Britain and Italy in that order. While the final schedule remains subject to change until the moment of takeoff from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington, the trip probably will begin at night in order to arrive in Bonn at an hour suitable for triumphal processions. Because of the six hour time difference between Washington and Bonn, if the President wanted to reach the German republic in the late morning or early afternoon, it would mean leaving this country in the late evening.

In practical terms, this amount to an all-night flight over the Atlantic because most persons riding aboard his plane will be too busy with last-minute preparations to enjoy pre-flight naps.

Once aboard Air Force One, the official designation of any plane on which Kennedy is a passenger, the problem of sleeping is negligible for occupant number one. The President has a small suite in the after part of the big Boeing VC 137, the Military Transport version of the commercial 707. And part of the suite includes a bedroom with two genuine beds.

IN THE MAIN cabin, there are four overhead berths. This means that about 30 other persons aboard Air Force One must sit up all night, albeit in comfortable reclining seats. As comfortable as these seats are, they do not permit more than napping at an angle.

One veteran traveler-with-jet-age-Presidents came up with possibly the best attitude: "Don't worry about sleep—just keep thinking of the fact that the trip won't last longer than a specific number of days, after which you may sleep in your own bed."

You Can Wield Peace Stickers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My eyes were really opened by Rosalind Watkins' letter in the Saturday I-J (June 15). Prior to reading this, I was one of the millions of Americans who thankfully paid my taxes to help support this Military program which I had thought was for my benefit.

Well, now I see it for what it really is . . . a monstrous plot to disrupt our sleep! And that Khaki-clad individuals who work long hours on short pay, and suffer many personal hardships in the course of their duty? . . . They bear watching! They're part of the plan to make us miserable, while lulling us with a false sense of security.

What can be done? . . . I'll tell you! . . . Let's organize. We can start by doing what some other farsighted people are doing . . . withholding that part of our taxes that are being used for national defense. We can picket Military bases to protest this folly. My personal banner shall read, with an apology to Patrick Henry . . . "Give me silence or give me death."

I can think of quite a number of pleasant places where they didn't have this constant, bothersome Military preparation . . . Vienna, Pearl Harbor, Seoul, just to name a few. I would like to contact other readers who feel the same about this, perhaps we can find a way to stop this costly nuisance. If we're wrong, and the Reds do come, we can always smack them with a "Ban the Bomb" sticker . . .

Here's Advice On Incinerators

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Just a spark of a suggestion on fire prevention:

If an incinerator is set into a pit dug about a foot deep and 3 to 5 feet across, escaping coals cannot roll out of bounds, and the can is less conspicuous. For next open-burning season, remember that a pit is especially helpful in controlling an open fire. It also holds the ashes for later scattering where soil needs loosening and sweetening.

I am a bit red-faced about suggesting that grass and weeds be burned without delay, when the fire season has already caught me with some of my grass not down.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"I'll never forget the morning we first gazed on Niagara Falls," confided Mrs. O'Connor. "My husband's face dropped a mile." "You mean," asked her friend incredulously, "that Niagara didn't come up to your husband's expectations?" "Not at all," Mrs. O'Connor assured her. "He fell over the rim."

Funny how certain old chestnuts keep getting pinned on new personalities in the news! Let a new judg be appointed to a high court, for example, and you're sure to read in some column or other how one day he upset a shelf of heavy law books which came tumbling down on his head. Inevitably he climbs out from the debris and remarks brightly, "Well, I've been laying down the law now for a good many years, but this is the first time I ever have been laid down by the law."

Governor Pat Brown tells of a lady motorist who happened to be driving down a street in Pasadena when a reasonably severe earthquake shook up the entire Southern California sector. A motorcycle cop beckoned to the lady. "What law have I broken?" she asked anxiously. "No law at all, ma'am," grinned the cop, "but we've just had an earthquake. Didn't you feel it?" "Not in this 1952 jalopy I didn't," answered the lady—and bumped on.

"Stop telling me," begged Mr. Dough of his best customer, "that your wife always has the last word. You don't know how lucky you are. My wife never gets to it."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

San Anselmo's police department and city council were blasted in a letter from Supreme Court Justice Jesse Carter of Sleepy Hollow who said the city has an "obnoxious traffic situation" due to unnecessary stop signs and traffic lights on Butterfield Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Norman A. Raab, bridge design engineer, forecast that construction of a second deck on the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge might be well on the way to completion before traffic started to flow over the first deck.

Marin County Supervisor George Whiteley moved preparation of a letter to the Golden Gate Bridge District board voicing "disappointment" that the supervisors' recommendation of a toll cut to 25 cents had been rejected. But his board decided to take the rejection in dignified silence.

20 YEARS AGO

Federal authorities served notice they were withdrawing the army guard which had been patrolling the Golden Gate Bridge as protection from possible wartime saboteurs. Bridge District directors pleaded for help from the Marin County sheriff and the San Francisco police to save the bridge district from expense of its own patrol and appealed to the secretary of war for a second thought.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Council Dissatisfied With Lack Of Progress In Corte Madera

"CORTE MADERA looks crummier than it did three years ago."

The comment came from Mayor Edward W. Colthurst last week.

As he commented his face looked as though he had just bitten a lemon by mistake.

To the mayor's left Councilman Charles F. Pendleton chimed in:

"Little or no maintenance has been done on the hill roads. Maintenance is needed to avoid losing some roads."

Pendleton said later:

"What about my lights?" which he did not see in the fiscal 1964 budget.

The nights (new ones for Redwood Avenue) were in the old budget, replied Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow, "but there are several projects ahead of them."

PENDLETON SAID that in past years "there have been muggings" on Redwood and there would be less danger of such crimes if the light were better. Pendleton added sadly:

"I've been waiting three years" for installation of the new lights.

The comments came as the council spent the majority of a two hour 10 minute meeting, called for budget talks, discussing a title change for one employee and several public works suggestions by Brandow.

The council agreed to call Richard McCready assistant town engineer instead of just assistant engineer because he performs Brandow's engineering duties, but not his managerial duties, in Brandow's absence.

Councilmen looked unfavorably on a suggestion that the title "park foreman" replace the position of "groundskeeper" to provide for a foreman-crew system of operation.

Councilmen said they preferred being able to rotate employees to various duties. Pendleton didn't think the town "big enough" to be having high specialization of duties.

Brandow suggested the assistant superintendent serve as "a second foreman" and "one new foreman position be created." Colthurst and Pendleton opposed adding a foreman.

COLTHURST AND Councilman Robert I. LaDow noted the new budget was $481,150, up nearly $35,000 from the current budget, with only $416,648 in anticipated revenue shown—$64,502 short.

Brandow suggested the budget be adopted with the understanding that it may be necessary to delay awarding one or more large contracts or borrow money.

The budget talks had a sound much like those in Larkspur, where City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper on May 1 handed the council a $460,719 budget with the recommendation that $63,000 be cut from it.

Neither community appeared in as bad a bind as the Larkspur School District, which includes Corte Madera. No budget figure was given the school board last week.

Financial coordinator Gilbert Slusher said the fiscal 1964 educational program would have to be cut about $112,000 following defeat of the June 4 tax-bond election. He said expected income would be around $857,000 — $33,000 less than the old budget.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Nuclear Sub Loss Was Serious Blow

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The loss of the nuclear attack submarine Thresher was a far more serious blow to the Navy than reports of the tragedy have revealed.

All of the Navy's highly sensitive and secret evaluation equipment for its top-priority Subroc missile program was on the Thresher when it sank off the coast of Massachusetts.

This is one of the major findings of staff investigators of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee who attended the proceedings of the official inquiry of the Navy's worst submarine disaster.

In an unpublished report to Senator John Pastore (R-R.I.), chairman, the staff investigators recommended that the Atomic Committee conduct a full-scale inquiry of the loss of the Thresher, including the impact its loss may have on the Subroc missile program.

The probers disclosed that the Thresher was assigned one of the Navy's most sensitive missions—evaluating underseas tests of the Subroc missile being developed by the Navy.

THIS UNDERWATER missile, like the Polaris, can be fired from a submarine while submerged. While the Polaris is designed to rise straight up after launching, the Subroc travels as far as 50 miles under water before surfacing to continue through the atmosphere to its target.

The Subros, equipped with a nuclear warhead as powerful as the Polaris, can attack enemy submarines, ships or land targets. Its range is estimated as "several hundred miles."

Loss of the evaluation equipment, according to the committee investigators, may delay the Subroc program far as much as one year.

The Navy is now seeking more than $1 million from Congress to secure replacement equipment to continue the highly successful Subroc tests.

The Senate investigators also reported that the Thresher may never be located because of the Navy's lack of deep diving equipment. The hull is believed deeply buried in soft slime on the ocean floor.

NEW IDEAS — Space-born ideas, developed by scientists working on government missile and satellite research, are starting to flow into private industry. "Welding Tips," discussing new techniques for joining metals, is the first of a planned series of "Application Notes" prepared by the National Aeronautics & Space Administration. It can be obtained by writing the Technology Utilization Office, NASA, Washington 24, D.C. . . . Federal housing authorities propose to rent more of the homes owned by the government in a move to produce revenue for the Federal Housing Administration. In recent months, defaults on mortgages insured by the FHA have increased. As a result, the agency now has 40,000 foreclosed houses, and new sales are slow. By renting these homes, FHA hopes to induce the tenants to buy.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Player Should Always Follow The Odds In A Ruffing Suit

Ruffing, the subject of all our articles this week, enables you to take finesses in which a trump takes the place of a high card in the suit.

The "ruffing finesse" is often better than an ordinary ruff-out.

Dummy's queen of hearts is covered by the king, and you win with the ace. Now you must choose the best way to develop dummy's clubs.

ONE PLAN

One plan is to take the ace of clubs, ruff a club, get to dummy with a trump to ruff another club, and get to dummy with another trump to ruff a third club.

All will be well if the trumps break 2-2 and the clubs break very favorably, but the odds are about 2 to 1 against getting a favorable break in both black suits.

The better plan is to play East for one or both of the missing high clubs. The odds are 3 to 1 that East will hold at least one high club.

DRAW TRUMPS

Draw trumps first, then cash the ace of clubs and lead a club through East. If East plays low, throw the low heart. As the cards lie you have no further problem.

If East covers with a high club, ruff. Get back to dummy with a diamond and lead another club through East. Again, you are ready to throw a heart if East plays low.

If East covers again, you ruff and get back to dummy with a trump to cash two good clubs. You can throw a heart and a diamond and can give up one diamond at the end.

WELL OFF

You would be just as well off if the high clubs were divided. You would lose the second trick of clubs to West, getting rid of the losing heart on that trick. You would get back to dummy with a diamond to lead another club through East. You would ruff whenever he covered, and you would discard diamonds on any other club trick.

Clearly it is better to have odds of 3 to 1 in your favor than odds of 2 to 1 against you. Avoid any line of play that requires favorable breaks in more than one suit.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicated p.m. times.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, June 20, the 171st day of 1963 with 194 to follow:

The moon is approaching new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1782, Congress adopted the great seal of the United States.

In 1837, the Victorian age began as Princess Victoria learned her uncle, the king, had died and she was the new British ruler.

A thought for the day — Jonathan Swift said: "How vain an attempt it is for a man to endeaver doing himself honor among those who are out of all degree of equality or comparison with him?"

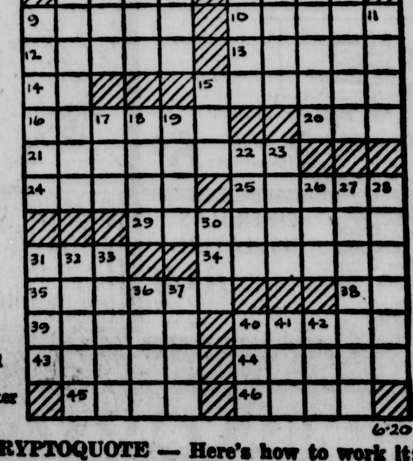
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

ALLEN EXCLUSIVES

San Rafael $34,950
Superb space value—immaculate and attractive. Located in a fine family neighborhood, with views across hills and wooded valley; 3 bedrooms, 2¼ baths, family room with fireplace, oversized double garage with utility space. All-fenced yard; lawn, patio, good planting. Paved storage under the house.

Mill Valley $38,500
Scott Highlands, situated in a quiet protected valley at the end of the Mill Valley Golf Course, is the setting for this quality home: 3 sizable bedrooms, 2 baths, huge living room and dining ell; large all-electric kitchen with sunny breakfast room with sliding glass doors to secluded patio. Views out into the redwoods.

Larkspur $39,500
An exquisite home in an equally beautiful setting: a half-acre of tall redwoods, manicured, low-maintenance patio-garden, separate play yard, plenty of light and sunshine. The living room walls are paneled, the beamed ceiling is high, the glass walls look out into the protected garden. Dining room, breakfast room, all-electric kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, handsome entrance garden, close-in location.

Ross $39,950
Newly-remodeled 3 bedroom home; separate dining room, all-electric kitchen, breakfast-family room with sliding glass doors out to a protected patio; 2 baths, fireplace in master bedroom, as well as in the living room. Level, close-in.

Tiburon $59,500
Here's the kind of retirement home to dream about: spacious, formal dining room, large living room, large all-electric kitchen and separate breakfast room, 2 bedrooms, 2 baths. The garden is completely secluded: glass-walled, wooded, large lawn, beautifully planted garden areas. Separate duplex-zoned lot included. Vast marine and San Francisco view.

Belvedere $69,000
Corinthian Island, unique, quaint and beautiful, has some of the best views in the world, and this brown-shingled home enjoys the finest! Handsomely remodeled; 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, study, breakfast room, large paneled living room, impressive copper-hooded fireplace. Extensive built-ins, good low-maintenance landscaping; oaks, knoll-top location.

Kent Woodlands $80,000
Dramatic contemporary home: high glass walls to the outdoors bring the greenery right in. Gleaming black formica counters in the all-electric kitchen contrast with the polished birch cabinets. Fieldstone wall in the entrance court, and a fieldstone fireplace wall, with walk-in wood room adjoining. All redwood paneling throughout the house for low maintenance, beauty. Four bedrooms, family room, utility room, protected patio; established planting, extra large parking and turn-around area.

Country Club Heights $97,000
Built to last a lifetime, this 4-bedroom home has extraordinary structural strength and details. Every imaginable convenience in the all-electric kitchen; enormous family room with rugged rock fireplace wall; marble fireplace in the living room. Arbored lanai just outside the family room. Lawn, terrace, swimming pool seen through floor-to-ceiling glass, with vast marine and valley view jn the distance.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Pregnant Women Suffer From Nausea, Lack Of Energy

VAN DELLEN

Many pregnant women suffer from nausea and lack of energy during the first few months. The exact cause is not known but we suspect the symptoms are due to the body's adjustment to pregnancy. This may explain why such discomforts usually vanish by the 10th or 12th week.

Nausea is not a neurotic manifestation. It is more likely to appear when the stomach is empty, as when arising in the morning, and small feedings at two-hour intervals are most helpful. The usual remedies for nausea seldom work but the majority of mothers-to-be can be reassured that the stomach will settle down by itself shortly. Lassitude also will disappear and some will feel more energetic at the end of that time than they did before becoming pregnant.

INCREASED salivation is another minor but disturbing complaint which makes the woman feel miserable. She expectorates often and the skin about the mouth becomes excoriated. Little can be done about this symptom but it ceases dramatically as soon as the baby is born.

Constipation is another problem which can be solved by mild cathartics and an occasional enema. Frequency of urination occurs when the enlarging uterus presses upon the bladder but after the uterus gets big enough to become an abdominal organ, the symptom disappears. It may return during the last few weeks of pregnancy when the enlarged uterus again presses upon the bladder as it descends into the pelvis.

BLEEDING is noted in one of five women during the early months. It is not always easy to determine whether a miscarriage is threatening but there is no need for concern when the physician cannot find anything abnormal.

Among other annoyances of pregnancy are disturbed locomotion, backache, and muscle cramps. Discuss all these disorders with your obstetrician and he may come up with some means of relief.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CORRECT THE CAUSE

M. M. writes: My 4-year-old vomits easily when upset. The boy's father thinks he does it on purpose and should be punished each time. Please enlighten me.

REPLY

Before doing anything rash, let an expert find out why the child vomits. It makes no sense to punish a 4-year-old who is trying to punish adults. If this is your husband's logic, ask him why the boy is vomiting on purpose and what both of you can do to correct the situation.

INCIDENCE OF CANCER

Mary B. writes: What are my chances of cancer? I'm going to get married in the fall and want to know.

REPLY

The chance is one in four as a female (one in five in males). The breast is the commonest site, followed by the large intestine, skin and cervix. In males, the skin is the favorite site, followed by the prostate, lungs and stomach. But why spoil the prospects of a happy marriage by thinking of cancer?

SURGERY MAY BE NEEDED

J. A. writes: How can a 67-year-old man cope with a hernia of the esophagus that causes a lot of vomiting?

REPLY

Surgery may be the only solution to this problem.

THICKENED TOENAILS

E. H. writes: Is it natural for the nails of the large toes to get thicker with age?

REPLY

Yes, and frequently they become brittle.

KIDNEY TUBERCULOSIS

D. B. writes: Is tuberculosis of one kidney curable?

REPLY

Yes, with isoniazid, PAS, or streptomycin.

Today's Health Hint—Accidents don't "just happen."

Nation's Economy Is Doing Well Now

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Dollars speak louder than rosy forecasts to businessmen — and to workers and investors and job seekers.

So, however promising the future looks to the planners, what really counts for the nation's retailers and producers and all other citizens is how the money is coming in right now.

For most it is coming in very well indeed.

The total of wages and salaries is rising. The sums that stockholders are getting in dividends are at a record high, because the net profits of U.S. corporations have gone up despite the complaints of a profit squeeze.

Retailers are taking in more money, even if they'd like to ring up more. Savings institutions are taking in more money, too.

Builders are starting more houses. Factories as a whole are hiring more employees, despite the mechanization that in some industries means turning out more goods with fewer workers. The average work week has increased. The service industries continue to make more jobs, although not enough more to solve the personal problems of the unemployed.

All hands realize that this could change — either way. The expected slight summer letdown could be extended and then the money wouldn't pour in as it should. Or the economy could take off to new heights as the forecasters in Washington hope.

But today the dollars and cents figures speak loud.

Income is flowing into individual pockets at an annual rate of 458.2 billion dollars, according to latest goevrnment figures. This pace is 18.5 billion faster than a year ago. It is also 1.2 billion better than in April, with most of the increase in wages and salaries.

This means that the five-point rise in the Federal Reserve Board index of industrial production since the first of the year is benefitting the employees as well as the manufacturers.

But the corporations are doing all right, too. Early reports show a rise in profits in the current quarter. In the January-March quarter earnings before taxes totalled 53.3 billion dollars, compared with 53.25 billion in the final three months of 1962 and with 50.9 billion in the April-June period last year.

Rising wage and salary payments have kept most retailers on the upgrade. Biggest advances have been in sales of autos and other consumer hard goods. Both the car and appliance men are confident the better sales trend will continue. Appliance sales have picked up this spring.

Part of this is due to replacements. But a large part is tied in with the rise in home building. In May, housing units were being started at an annual rate of 1,728,000, a pace 149,000 faster than a year ago, and 101,000 better than a year ago, and 101,000 better than in April.

New homes and apartments have to be outfitted and furnished. Furniture, textile and appliance makers all are cheered as the construction increases.

So summer starts with a happy tune—the jingle of money. The forecasts will be studied, but the cash register will be heard.

Tomales Students Appeal

Two Want To Switch Schools

By FRANK FARRARA

The case of the Tomales High School students who want to attend classes in the Tamalpais Union High School District will be appealed to the Marin County Board of Education.

Attorney William B. Wolfson said today he was "bitterly disappointed in the hypocritical attitude" of the Tamalpais board of trustees, and charged their decision against inter-district agreements for two West Marin students was "based on the almighty dollar."

Wolfson, who represented parents seeking the transfers at the Tamalpais board meeting Monday, said he will file his appeal within 30 days.

Four students from the Tomales District have applied for transfers. Chester G. Carlisle, superintendent of the Tamalpais District, has rejected two, but has not taken action on the other two.

Tamalpais District trustees Monday upheld the turndown and voted to charge tuition, amounting to about $694, for transfer students under any interdistrict agreement meeting conditions the trustees laid down. This ends the practice of waiving the tuition.

As a result San Rafael High School District, which has had a no - tuition agreement with Tamalpais, will have to pay the tuition starting this fall.

Bert C. Corona, superintendent of San Rafael Schools, said "only a few students" were involved in the inter-district transfers. The tuition was waived because it "generally balanced out," he said. San Rafael has a similar agreement with the Novato Unified School District, he said.

There are differing interpretations as to whether the education code makes it mandatory to charge tuition in inter-district agreements.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has ruled that tuition must be paid, but Marin County Counsel F. Warren McGuire said yesterday he still holds the opinion that districts can waive tuition.

Edwin F. Blackmore, coordinator of rural education in the county schools office, said the code provides that district boards can enter into agreements "stipulating the terms."

If the county school board rules to permit inter-district attendance, Blackmore said, the district of residence must pay the district of attendance for the actual cost of education less state and federal apportionments for that pupil.

Parents of pupils seeking to change districts have the right to appeal to the county board of education if either district involved "neglects or refuses" to enter into an agreement within 30 days after they make the request.

San Rafael High School District entered into its agreement with the Novato Unified School District in 1961.

Corona said the San Rafael School District uses the inter-district agreements when:

1. There is a physical, social or personality "hardship" to the student.

2. A high school senior who has moved wants to finish at the school he has been attending.

3. Another district has "academic offerings" that are not offered in the district where he lives.

PERFORMERS IN VARIETY SHOW

Among featured performers in "Zig Zag," a variety show scheduled for eight performances at Belrose Studio Theater in San Rafael, are (from left) Steph Simon, Joann Sabaca, Kenni Farrar and Larry Grubert. They are among 150 Marin young people who will take part in the four-act presentation embracing comedy, music, dramatics and dancing. "Zig Zag" will run tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night and Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights next week.

Medics Told To Take More Care With Their Statistics

By DELOS SMITH

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)— Medical scientists were told today they should be more careful with their statistics because their statistical errors are the only ones capable of rebounding in the loss of lives.

Helen E. Scott, statistician of the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C., revealed she and her associates had turned up basic errors in several sets of medical statistics. These errors made their conclusions false rather than true.

She dropped her mathematical bombshell at the 112th annual meeting of the American Medical Assn. It was a bombshell because more and more conservative physicians are believing nothing concerning the effectiveness of new drugs and other treatments until it has been "proved" statistically.

All were "follow up" studies to find out how patients had fared in a given time period following treatment for specific disorders. One such study showed no one given a specific treatment had died. The Walter Reed check revealed that actually 45 per cent of them were dead.

Another "follow up" study found 5 per cent of the persons treated were dead, 41 per cent were still ill and 54 per cent were well. But the fact was that 27 per cent were dead, 34 per cent were ill and 39 per cent were well, Miss Scott said.

It followed, therefore, that any physician guided in his treatments by these statistics was being statistically misled. Statistical studies also are used to measure the popularity of television programs and to guide executive decisions in business and finance.

Miss Scott regarded errors in the latter relatively unimportant. Television performers have only careers to lose, and business has "only money" to lose. But when "statistics are distorted in medical work we may have lives to lose," she said.

Her attack was on the commonly used method of gathering raw statistics by mailed questionnaires. The persons who do not return the filled in questionnaire are classified as "no response." These persons are needled, by mail, to come through. Those who do respond to this second urging are then taken to be representative of those who don't and their answers are projected mathematically over all the "no responses."

This, Miss Scott said, introduces a falsifying "bias."

She and her associates went back over the "no responses" of the statistical studies they took at random for exhaustive investigation. They took pains to find out the truth for each "no response" and demonstrated that the mathematical projections had fallen far short of truth.

She made it plain she was attacking "sampling theories" in general, meaning those statistical techniques which purport to reveal facts about multitudes of persons by "sampling a few of them.

"I am not so sure that this has been or is justified in all of the areas it is used," she said. "When a human physical-psychological response is involved, and the Gallup poll is a good example, we may inadvertently produce distorted findings which can undermine the very essence of our existence."

Judge Sentences Drivers To Jail

Two drunken drivers were fined and sentenced to jail Tuesday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court.

Ray Lynn Parrott, 28, of Pacifica, paid $276 fine and must serve 10 days in jail. He was arrested April 18 in San Anselmo. Parrott had two prior violations in Martinez.

Alfred Strombeck, 48, of 616 Plum Street, Novato, drew $276 fine and five days in jail for his second offense. He was arrested last April 26 on Highway 101 in Novato.

James Alfred Tellez, 26, of San Francisco paid $149 fine. He must remain on probation for nine months. Tellez was arrested on Highway 101 at the Corte Madera interchange on June 2.

Office Training Graduation Set

Twenty-five Marin women will complete College of Marin's office clerical training program and receive graduation certificates in a ceremony at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in room 70, business building.

The students have received five months training in typing, bookkeeping, business machines, transcription, business English and mathematics as part of the Federal Manpower Training Act program for unemployed workers, said instructor Robert E. Wilkins.

Six members of the class already have jobs, said Wilkins.

Fluoridation Report

CHICAGO (UPI)—Tooth decay reduction up to 75 per cent has been reported in Philadelphia school children as a result of seven years of fluoridation, reports the American Dental Assn.

Marin Dartmouth College Seniors Receive Degrees

Three Dartmouth College seniors from Marin received bachelor of arts degrees Sunday during commencement exercises at the college in Hanover, N. H.

Lawrence D. Friedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedman of 211 Canal Street, graduated cum laude with a degree in government. Friedman, a Phi Beta Kappa, also received a National Defense Education Act fellowship.

A degree in architecture went to Howard W. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Allen of 226 Woodland Road, Kentfield. Stephen C. Francis, son of Mrs. Harold F. Riede, 4 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, was awarded a degree in economics.

NEW UNITED AIRLINES JET

Shown on its recent maiden flight over Seattle is the first of 40 Boeing-727 jetliners now in production for United Air Lines. Delivery will begin in the fall and scheduled service from San Francisco to Los Angeles, Reno and Sacramento will begin early next spring. The unusual tri-engine jet cruises at 550 to 600 miles an hour and is capable of carrying 92 passengers for one class service. (AP Wirephoto)

Measure Requiring Classes For Retarded Gets Approval

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature yesterday gave final approval to a bill requiring school districts to provide special classes for severely mentally retarded youngsters between the ages of five and 18.

The action came on unanimous Assembly concurrence to technical Senate amendments to the bill by Assemblyman Calri W. Burgener (R-San Diego).

He estimated it would cost the state some one million dollars more in school aid for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

At present, some 3,700 youngsters with intelligence quotients of up to about 50 attend special classes provided by some districts.

By making the classes mandatory, Burgener estimates the rest of the 6,000 severely retarded children in the state will have classes available to them.

Districts of 8,000 or more children would have to set up their own programs. Smaller districts would have the classes set up by the county school superintendent. Counties with too few retarded children or with youngsters who have to travel an unreasonable distance to class could apply for an exemption.

Plants Show Chemical Relation To Diseases

STANFORD (AP) — Plants fall prey to diseases to which they are chemically related, a University of California team of plant pathologists reported yesterday.

Their report to the annual meeting here of the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, cited as an example a bacterium that attacks cotton. Certain proteins in the bacterium resemble the proteins in cotton even more than those in related bacteria.

The result, W. C. Schnathorst and J. E. DeVay say, is that the bacteria can invade the cotton plant without setting up a defense reaction - a process of hypersensitivity which produces anti-bodies in animals.

The two scientists are from the university's Davis campus.

Clerics Ask H-Test Treaty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Forty-four American Protestant church leaders today urged a nuclear test ban treaty.

"Without such a treaty, no man is secure, every man in every country can look to the day when the nuclear threat will come home to him," they said in a statement released here by Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike.

Their statement called for support of President Kennedy's efforts to halt "testing of the most destructive weapons mankind has ever known" through a test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

Signatories came from 27 cities and include heads of four denominations and two former heads of the national council of churches.

What is this little town famous for?

Water! Naturally perfect brewing water for making Olympia Beer. Cold, consistently pure water flowing from deep artesian wells. That's why the Olympia people started their brewery in Tumwater, some 60 miles south of Seattle, in 1896. That's why they're still there—and only there. So you and your friends can enjoy this light, wonderfully refreshing beer that never changes in excellence or flavor. This is what Tumwater is famous for.

One ingredient is priceless: "It's the Water"

Visitors are always welcome at the Olympia Brewing Company, Tumwater, near Olympia, Washington, 8:00 to 4:30 every day. "Oly"
